Family Hymns (1767)
[Baker list, #299]

Editorial Introduction:

After issuing Hymns for Children in 1763, Charles Wesley went nearly four years without a publication. But he was busy composing. In 1767 he released two major collections: Trinity Hymns and Family Hymns. While their themes are fairly divergent, the two collections bear evidence of being cultivated alongside each other. In particular, Charles arranged the first twenty-four selections in Family Hymns (1767) to correspond to the metre of the twenty-four Festival Hymns (1746), allowing him to suggest Lampe’s tunes for these hymns (and the others in the collection with the same metre). He used the same arrangement in the last section of Trinity Hymns (1767).\textsuperscript{2}

While Trinity Hymns (1767) had a tight organizational structure and focus, following the outline of a book by William Jones, Family Hymns (1767) is a wide-ranging and eclectic collection of materials for personal and family devotional use. Some of the items were surely composed with the collection in mind, but Charles also gathered here many poems written in settings of his family life over the last two decades.

The collection sold well enough to be reprinted in 1776. However, this was strictly a reprint, with no further editorial attention. It reproduces nearly all of the scattered misprints in the original.

London: Hawes, 1776.

\textsuperscript{2}Charles had used this organizational pattern once before, in the first 24 hymns in Redemption Hymns (1747). He also suggests tunes from Festival Hymns (1746) in Graces (1746), but not in the same order.

HYMNS
FOR A
FAMILY.

1. For the Master.—1 Chronicles 16:45.¹
To: “Father, our hearts we lift.”

1. The power to bless my house
   Belongs to God alone:
   Yet rend’ring him my constant vows,
   I bring his blessing down:
   When two or three are met
   In Jesus’ name to pray,
   He doth our canceled sins forget,
   And turns his wrath away.

2. Shall I not then engage
   My house to serve the Lord,
   To search the soul-converting page,
   And feed upon his word;
   To ask with faith and hope
   The grace his Spirit supplies,
   In prayer and praise to offer up
   Their daily sacrifice?

¹Ori., “45”; a mistake that remains in the second edition.
3 Merciful God, on me
The res’lute mind bestow,
On all my favoured family,
In David’s steps to go:
Let each his sin eschew
Through thy restraining grace,
Our father Abraham’s steps pursue,
And walk in all thy ways.

4 Saviour of men, incline
The hearts which thou hast made,
Which thou hast bought with blood divine,
To ask thy promised aid:
Me, and my house receive,
Thy family t’ increase,
And let us in thy favour live,
And let us die in peace.

2.
For the Family.
To: “Angels speak, let men give ear.”

1 Young, and old, and men, and maidens,
Let us sing
Christ our King
Who his mourners gladdens;
Joyful now in expectation
We, ev’n we Soon shall see
Jesus our salvation.

2 Truth himself the word hath spoken:
In his word
Christ the Lord
Gives us now a token;
Bids us steadfastly believe him,
’Till in love
From above
All who ask receive him.
3 We through sin no longer drooping
   Lift our eyes
   To the skies,
For the promise hoping:
Jesus comes with all his merit;
   Comes to me
   One in Three,
Father, Son, and Spirit.

4 Conscious of his pard’ning power
   We his name
   Shall proclaim,
Teach the world t’ adore;
Tell what God hath done to bless us,
   Us, and all
   Them that call
On our loving Jesus.

5 We who have in Christ found favour,
   Christ confess,
   Publish peace
Through the common Saviour:
Yes, the Father justifieth
   Every one
   On his Son
Who, like us, relieth.

6 He who canceled our offences,
   Man and God
   By his blood
All believers cleanses:
While the Spirit of consolation
   Witness bears
   In the heirs
Chosen to salvation.
3.
To: "Away with our fears."

1 O Father of all,
Attend to our call
Who in Jesus's name
The promise of peace and of purity claim;
Who long to believe,
And with rapture receive
Through faith in his blood
The unspeakable gift of an indwelling God.

2 For the sake of thy Son
Thy family own,
While we jointly agree
In the name of our Lord to petition for thee:
Thee alone we require,
Thee in Jesus desire,
In the Spirit of love,
As our joy upon earth, and our portion above.

3 Come, Father, and Son,
With the Comforter down,
In the fulness of peace,
The ecstatical earnest of heavenly bliss:
One ineffable Three
To my household and me
The whole Godhead impart,
And eternally dwell in the sanctified heart.

4.
To: "All ye that pass by."

1 O Saviour of all,
Attend to our call,
And awaken our souls, and redeem from their fall:
Our apostasy known
In part we bemoan,
And for pardon, oppressed, and for liberty groan.
2 Love moved thee to die;
And on this we rely,
Thou art able, O God, thy own blood to apply;
Thou canst, if thou wilt:
And it surely was spilt
To redeem us from sin, both the power and the guilt.

3 Ever able to cleanse,
And remove it from hence,
Our original guilt, with our actual offence;
Ever willing thou art,
Thy peace to impart,
And make thy abode in a penitent heart.

4 Come then from above
In the Spirit of love,
And the mountain of sin by thy coming remove:
Thee present below
By faith when we know,
The mountain of sin in a moment shall flow!

5 We wait the glad hour,
Convinced of thy power
To forgive us our sins, and our souls to restore:
We have faith to be healed;
And when thou art revealed,
Our salvation is sure, and our pardon is sealed.

5.
To: “Lamb of God, whose bleeding love.”

1 Have not we redemption found
And righteousness through grace?
Let our houses then resound
With our Redeemer’s praise;
Let our souls to him aspire,
Who died that we might live forgiven,
Emulate th’ angelic choir,
And taste the joys of heaven.
2 Jesus’ praises we proclaim,
And daily pay our vows:
Consecrated through his name
A church is in our house:
Melody to Christ our King
We make with joyful hearts sincere:
Angels listen while we sing,
And God vouchsafes to hear.

3 God doth to our King attend,
Who shouts amidst his own;
Praises now through Christ ascend
To that eternal throne:
When we there triumphant stand,
And all our elder brethren meet,
Hymning with that harping band;
The concert is complete.

For the Evening,
To: “Hearts of stone, relent, relent.”

1 Giver of the nightly songs,
Fain we would thy glory raise,
Pay thee what to thee belongs,
All our life and all our praise;
But ’till thou thy blood apply,
Thee we cannot glorify.

2 Thou hast bought us with thy blood,
Yet we still in Egypt dwell
Strangers to a dying God,
’Till thou dost thyself reveal:
Hear us for redemption groan,
Claim the prisoners for thine own.
3 Mightier than the mighty, seize Whom thou hast redeemed of old,
Us the slaves of man release,
   Us to sin and Satan sold,
Bid thy ransomed creatures rise,
Bear away the lawful prize.

4 Set our hearts at liberty,
   Through the power of pard’ning grace,
Then we shall give thanks to thee,
   Publish our Redeemer’s praise,
Chant the Lamb like those above,
Only live to sing and love.

7.
To: “With pity, Lord, a sinner see.”

1 Come, Son of Abraham and of God,
   Saviour on the world bestowed,
   To ransom and to bless,
And let our souls possessed of thee
   The true complete felicity,
   The sovereign good possess.

2 Thy faithful word and oath we plead:
   Show thyself the promised seed,
   The all-redeeming Lord,
And let us in thy favour find
   And in thy purity of mind
   Our paradise restored.

3 In this thrice acceptable hour
   Exercise thy pard’ning power,
   Our curse and sin remove,
Admit us to the gospel feast,
   And give our newborn souls to taste
   The blessedness of love.
4 In peace incomprehensible
   Pardon on our conscience seal,
   In joy and love unknown:
O’erwhelm us with the blissful sight
Which sinks the first-born sons of light
   In silence round thy throne.

For Sunday.
To: “Rejoice, the Lord is King.”

1 The Lord is ris’n indeed,
   And bids his members rise!
Ye saints by Jesus freed,
   Pursue him to the skies:
This is the day the Lord hath made;
Rejoice, and be forever glad.

2 On this triumphant day
   Peculiarly his own,
He calls his church to pray,
   And sing around his throne:
This is the day the Lord hath made;
Rejoice, and be forever glad.

3 Jesus, to us impart
   Thy resurrection’s power,
And teach our quickened heart
   Its living Lord t’ adore,
To vie with the redeemed above
Rejoicing in thy pard’ning love.

4 Us by thy peace assure
   Thou dost our sins forgive,
And then our spirits pure
   Unto thyself receive,
To keep the day of rest above
Rejoicing in thy heavenly love.
9.
To: “Jesu, show us thy salvation.”

1 Giver of unfeigned repentance,
   Unto us thy blessing give,
   That we may the mortal sentence
       In our guilty selves receive;
Sensible of our demerit,
   May from every sin depart,
Offering up a troubled spirit,
   Rend’ring thee a broken heart.

2 From the evils which surround us
   That we may this moment fly,
By a stroke of mercy wound us,
   By thy kind upbraiding eye:
Out of thine obdurate creature
   Thou the stony heart remove;
Cast the look that vanquished Peter,
   Melt us down by dying love.

3 Let thy dying love constrain us
   Our ingratitude to mourn,
Let thine unknown anguish pain us,
   ’Till the wanderers return;
Fill our souls with sacred trouble,
   Give us bitterly to weep,
All our burdens, Lord, redouble,
   Sink us in the lowest deep.

4 From the pit of condemnation
   When to thee for help we cry,
Visit us with thy salvation,
   Show the open fountain nigh;
Show thyself our bleeding Jesus,
   All our sufferings to remove,
With thy pard’ning mercy bless us,
   Bless us with thy perfect love.
10.
To: “Happy Magdalene.”

To Happy soul whom Jesus loves,
Freely loves and justifies!
Jesus all his griefs removes,
Jesus all his wants supplies,
With celestial manna feeds,
(Manna to the world unknown)
By the silent waters leads
Up to an eternal throne.

Saviour, speak the blessing ours,
(Peace thy gracious word imparts;)
Bid us taste the heavenly powers,
Stamp the pardon on our hearts:
Wait our longing hearts on thee,
’Till thou shed thy love abroad,
Give the glorious liberty,
Wash us in thy hallowing blood.

Well thou know’st, we cannot rest
Unrenewed and unforgiven;
Troubled is the faithless breast,
Unassured of peace with heaven:
Sick through hope so long delayed
Still we for redemption groan,
Of an angry God afraid,
Flying from a God unknown.

Sent thy Father to proclaim,
Wilt thou not the veil withdraw;
Turn, by telling us his name,
Servile fear to filial awe?
Now the evangelic grace
Let us with thyself receive,
See in thine the Father’s face,
Blest in God forever live.
11.
To: “Hail the day that sees him rise.”

1 Meet and right it is to praise
God the giver of all grace,
God whose mercies are bestowed
On the evil and the good:
He prevents the creature’s call,
Kind and merciful to all,
Makes his sun on sinners rise,
Showers his blessings from the skies.

2 Least of all thy mercies we Daily thy salvation see,
As by heavenly manna fed,
Through a world of dangers led,
Through a wilderness of cares,
Through a thousand, thousand snares,
More than now our hearts conceive,
More than we can know and live.

3 By our bosom-foe beset,
Taken in the fowler’s net,
Passion’s unresisting prey
Oft within the toils we lay:
Sleeping on the brink of sin
Tophet gaped to take us in;
Mercy to our rescue flew,
Broke the snare, and brought us through.

4 Here, as in the lions’ den
Undevoured we still remain,
Pass secure the wat’ry flood
Hanging on the arm of God:
Here we lift our voices higher,
Shout in the refiner’s fire,
Clap our hands amidst the flame,
Glory give to Jesus’ name.

5 Jesus’ name in Satan’s hour
Stands our adamantine tower:
Jesus doth his own defend,
Love, and save us to the end:
Love shall make us persevere
Till our conquering Lord appear,
Bear us to our thrones above,
Crown us with his heavenly love.

12.
To: “Hail, Jesus, hail, our great high priest.”

1 How good and pleasant ’tis to see,
When brethren cordially agree,
   And kindly think and speak the same,
A family of faith and love
Combined to seek the things above,
   And spread the common Saviour’s fame!

2 The God of grace who all invites,
Who in our unity delights,
   Vouchsafes our intercourse to bless,
Revives us with refreshing showers,
The fulness of his blessings pours,
   And keeps our minds in perfect peace.

3 Jesus, thou precious cornerstone,
Preserve inseparably one
   Whom thou dost by thy Spirit join:
Still let us in thy Spirit live,
And to thy church the pattern give
   Of unanimity divine:

4 Still let us to each other cleave,
And from thy plenitude receive
Constant supplies of hallowing grace,
Till to a perfect man we rise,
O’ertake our kindred in the skies,
And find prepared our heavenly place.

To: “Sinners, rejoice, your peace is made.”

1 Father of omnipresent grace,
We seem agreed to seek thy face;
But every soul assembled here
Doth naked in thy sight appear:
Thou know’st who only bows the knee,
And who in heart approaches thee.

2 Thy Spirit hath the difference made
Betwixt the living and the dead:
He now doth into some inspire
The pure, benevolent desire:
O that ev’n now his powerful call
Might quicken and convert us all!

3 The sinners suddenly convince
O’erwhelmed beneath their load of sins,
Today, while it is called today,
Awake, and stir them up to pray,
Their dire captivity to own,
And from the iron furnace groan.

4 Then, then acknowledge, and set free
The people bought, O Lord, by thee,
The sheep for whom their shepherd bled,
For whom we in thy Spirit plead,
Let all in thee redemption find,
And not an hoof be left behind.
14. To: “Jesus, we hang upon the word.”

1 Jesus, display thy presence here,
   Celestial architect divine,
To raise our fallen souls, appear,
   To consecrate thy human shrine,
A temple for the deity,
   A mansion not unworthy thee.

2 Thy hands must the foundation lay,
   Thy hands the fabric must complete:
O come, and take our sins away,
   Forgive us trembling at thy feet,
Assure our hearts of sin forgiven,
   And build thy temples up to heaven.

3 Who seek redemption in thy blood,
   O let us there our pardon find,
With all the character of God,
   With all thy meek and lowly mind,
(To fit us for our place above)
   With all thy purity of love.

4 Accomplish thy redeeming plan,
   By thine almighty Spirit’s power
Conduct us to a perfect man,
   And at our last triumphant hour
Remove into thy blissful sight,
   And fill our souls with glorious light.

15. To: “Jesus, dear departed Lord.”

1 Jesus, full of pity see,
   Souls so dearly bought by thee;
Souls so dearly bought in vain,
   If we still in sin remain;
If we unconverted die,
Though thou didst our pardon buy,
Wasted is the blood it cost,
Every precious drop is lost.

2 Wilt thou not our guilt remove,
Show us thy redeeming love,
Of thy pard’ning grace assure,
Make our sprinkled conscience pure?
Yes; thy cross hath promised all;
Thou shalt raise us from our fall,
Every purchased good impart,
Purify and fill our heart.

3 In our desolate estate
We for full redemption wait,
Wait the leisure of our Lord
Sure to be at last restored:
We for whom our God hath died,
We shall feel thy blood applied,
Perfect peace in Jesus given,
Finished holiness, and heaven.

To: “Spirit of truth, descend.”

1 Spirit of love, return
To every troubled breast,
And comfort us who mourn
For permanence of rest:
Thou dost thy mourners’ steps attend
Our undiscovered guide;
But come our grief and sin to end,
And in our hearts abide.
2 With us residing here
   We know thee now in part,
   The author of our fear,
   And all our hope thou art:
Thou often visitest thine own:
   But in an hour, or day
Our transitory guest is gone,
   Our joy is fled away.

3 How short alas, our taste
   Of those celestial powers,
   When a few moments blest,
   We know that Christ is ours,
That Christ hath quenched the wrath of God,
   His Father's grace revealed,
And bought our pardon with his blood,
   And on our conscience sealed.

4 O might we always know,
   The Father reconciled:
Set up thy throne below
   In each adopted child;
Restore the kingdom of thy grace,
   And fill us from above
With purest joy, and perfect peace,
   And everlasting love.

For the Evening.
To: “Hail, holy, holy, holy Lord.”

1 Father by saints on earth adored,
   By saints beyond the skies,
Accept through Jesus Christ our Lord
   Our evening sacrifice:
If kept today from wilful sin,
   We magnify thy grace;
Thou hast our kind preserver been,
   And thine be all the praise.
2 We found the presence of our God,
The power of Jesus’ name,
While passing through the parted flood,
And through the harmless flame:
Enticed by sin, we did not yield,
Or place to Satan give:
And still by mercy’s arm withheld
We to thy glory live.

3 We live to testify the grace
Which sure salvation brings:
And sink tonight in thy embrace,
And rest beneath thy wings:
But whether, Lord, we wake or sleep,
The charge of love divine,
We trust thy providence to keep Our souls forever thine.

18.
To: “Sinners obey the gospel-word.”

1 Jesus, the virtue of thy name
Today as yesterday the same
Our guilt removes, our fear dispels,
And every soul-distemper heals.

2 On us the precious faith bestow
Through which thy name we truly know,
Experience all its saving powers,
And feel, whate’er thou hast is ours.

3 Thou giv’st us now our want to feel,
Thou dost our unbelief reveal,
And wrought to this by previous grace
We ask thy love, and seek thy face.

4 Thy all-restoring love impart,
Display thy presence in our heart,
And perfectly made whole we rise,
And go in peace to paradise.

19.
To: “O love divine, how sweet thou art!”

1 O thou that hast our sorrows borne,
Help us to look on thee, and mourn,
    On thee whom we have slain,
Have pierced a thousand, thousand times,
And by reiterated crimes
    Renewed thy mortal pain.

2 Vouchsafe us eyes of faith to see
The man transfixed on Calvary,
    To know thee who thou art,
The one eternal God and true;
And let the sight affect, subdue,
    And break my stubborn heart.

3 My heart all other means defies,
It dares against thy threat’nings rise,
    Thy righteous laws disdains;
More hardened than the fiends below,
With unconcern to hell I go,
    And laugh at hellish pains.

4 Lover of souls, to rescue mine,
Reveal the charity divine
    That suffered in my stead,
That made thy soul a sacrifice,
And quenched in death those flaming eyes,
    And bowed that sacred head.

5 The unbelieving veil remove,
And by thy manifested love,
    And by thy sprinkled blood
Destroy the love of sin in me,
And get thyself the victory,
    And bring me back to God.
6 Now by thy dying love constrain
My heart to love its God again,
Its God to glorify;
And lo, I come thy cross to share,
Echo thy sacrificial prayer,
And with my Saviour die.

20.
To: “Head of thy church triumphant.”

1 Fountain of endless mercies,
   Giver of all in Jesus,
   Who from thy throne
   Hast sent thy Son
   To ransom and to bless us:
Respect our humble mansion
   With grateful joy resounding,
   With hymns of praise
   For pard’ning grace
   Above our sins abounding.

2 Acknowledging the author
   And God of our salvation,
   Our hearts we lift,
   And own the gift
   Too mighty for expression:
We would be truly thankful
   Whom Jesus doth deliver
   From all our foes,
   And peace bestows,
   And life that lasts forever.

3 At morning, noon, and evening
   Our sacrifices bringing,
   We instantly
   Give praise to thee,
   The song triumphant singing;
With all thy ransomed people
Through Jesus’ blood forgiven,
From earth we fly,
And scale the sky,
And join the choir of heaven.

21.
To: “Ye servants of God.”

1 The wonders of grace
Redeemed we proclaim,
The virtues confess
Of Jesus’s name;
Our whole conversation
To Jesus doth tend,
To final salvation,
And joy without end.

2 We rise with the sun,
To commune of him;
And when we lie down,
He still is our theme:
Recording his praises
We sink on his breast,
And in his embraces
With confidence rest.

3 Of Jesus our friend
We talk by the way,
His goodness commend,
His Spirit obey;
By short aspirations,
His succour implore,
And kept in temptations
Rejoice evermore.

4 O Saviour, appear,
To finish our sin,
In love without fear
Thy nature bring in:
We then in the Spirit
   Of purity rise,
Thy joy to inherit,
   Thy throne in the skies.

22.
To: “Ah lovely appearance of death!”

1 Almighty Redeemer of all,
   To trouble and misery nigh,
Convinced, but unsaved from our fall
   On thee we desire to rely;
Thou lover and friend of mankind,
   With joy we have heard of thy fame,
Thy mercy expecting to find
   Forever and ever the same.

2 Thou didst the lost sinners receive,
   The weary, o’erwhelmed, and oppressed,
Thou didst the afflicted relieve,
   And give them assurance and rest:
With sins or infirmities pained,
   Thy succour who humbly implored,
As many as sought it obtained,
   As many as touched were restored.

3 Invited and urged to draw nigh,
   We trust in a merciful God,
To thee the physician apply,
   And wait for a drop of thy blood:
Thy blood can all sicknesses heal;
   Its virtue, O Jesus, impart,
Our pardon infallibly seal,
   And heaven implant in our heart.
23.
To: “’Tis finished, ’tis done.”

1 Come, Jesus, and build
   Thy temples below,
In mercy revealed
   Thy deity show;
Lay deep the foundation
   Of faith in thy blood
Which brought us salvation,
   Which brings us to God.

2 Implant by thy grace
   A church in this house,
Then, then we shall praise,
   And pay thee our vows;
Beholding thy glory
   Our souls shall arise,
And gladly adore thee,
   Like those in the skies.

3 A power to believe
   We humbly request,
And long to receive
   The promise of rest:
From sorrow and sinning
   This moment to cease,
Our service beginning
   With pardon and peace.

4 The praise of our Lord
   Impatient to spread,
We wait for a word
   That quickens the dead:
Thy mercy forgiving
   The moment we see,
The living, the living
   Shall triumph in thee.
5 The blessings of grace
If others conceal,
Our lips shall confess
The comforts we feel;
Redeemed by thy passion,
We all the day long
Will publish salvation,
And sing the new song.

6 O wouldst thou inspire
Our hearts with thy love,
And add to the choir
Of harpers above:
Then, Saviour, receive us,
When perfect in one,
And graciously give us
A share of thy throne.

24.
To: “Thanks be to God alone.”

1 Jesus, we look to thee,
Part of thy family:
Saviour of our sinful race,
Claim the purchase of thy blood,
Seize the prisoners of thy grace,
Bring us to a pard’ning God.

2 Disconsolate, distressed,
We sigh to thee for rest,
Of our heavy load complain,
Sorrows, sins, and doubts, and fears,
’Till the Comforter we gain,
’Till the bloody cross appears.

3 But when that Spirit pours
Thy blood on us and ours,
Conscience is no more defiled,
Sighing, sin, and fear are gone,
God in thee is reconciled,
God in thee is all our own.

4 Come, Father, in the Son,
And in the Spirit down,
Purify our inward parts
By thy love ineffable,
Take possession of our hearts,
God in us forever dwell.

25.

1 Thou Son of God, whose flaming eyes
   Our inmost thoughts perceive,
Accept our evening sacrifice,
   Which now to thee we give:
We bow before thy gracious throne
   And think ourselves sincere:
But show us, Lord, is every one
   Thy real worshipper?

2 Is here a soul that knows thee not,
   Nor feels his want of thee,
A stranger to the blood which bought
   His pardon on the tree?
Convince him now of unbelief,
   His desperate state explain,
And fill his careless heart with grief,
   And penitential pain.

3 Speak with that voice which wakes the dead,
   And bid the leper rise,
And bid his guilty conscience dread
   The death that never dies;
Extort the cry what must be done
   To save a wretch like me?
How shall a trembling sinner shun
That endless misery?

4 I must this instant now begin
   Out of my sleep to wake,
   And turn to God, and every sin
   Continually forsake;
I must for faith incessant cry,
   And wrestle, Lord, with thee,
I must be born again, or die
   To all eternity.

26.

1 O God in Christ the Saviour
   To sinners reconciled,
   With manifested favor
   Receive thy suppliant child:
On us who bow before thee
   Lift up thy smiling face,
And bid our souls adore thee
   The God of pard’ning grace.

2 Father, ’till thou revealest
   Truth in our inward parts,
   And sure forgiveness sealest
   On all our waiting hearts,
Us by thy fear o’erawing
   From evil far remove,
And let us feel thee drawing
   Our hearts with cords of love.

3 In soft compassion mind us,
   If e’er we go astray,
   And speak the word behind us
   “Return, this is the way!”
Restrain our will consenting
   To sin and misery,
And through thy grace preventing,
   Allure us back to thee.

4 By mercy’s sweet attraction
   We after thee shall run,
And win the satisfaction
   For us already won,
Regain our long-lost Eden,
   In Jesus’ peaceful mind,
And by thy Spirit’s leading
   Our heavenly country find.

27.

1 Rest of every weary spirit,
   Peace of every troubled heart,
Jesus full of righteous merit,
   Righteousness to us impart;
All our sins in love pass over,
   (All our sins were counted thine)
Spread thy skirt our shame to cover,
   Screen us from the wrath divine.

2 To the hope displayed before us
   While we would for refuge fly,
To thy Father’s smile restore us,
   Now th’ ungodly justify;
While we pant beneath the mountain,
   O remove our guilty load,
Draw us to the open fountain,
   Plunge the sinners in thy blood.

3 Peace be to our habitation,
   Peace to all that here reside!
Stir them up to seek salvation
   Who secure in death abide:
By themselves no longer hardened
   Comfort may they never know,
Never rest till freely pardoned
   After thee with joy they go.

4    In a state of nature sleeping,
     Still our little ones defend,
Have the innocents in keeping
   Whom we to thy care commend;
Gently from their slumber wake them;
   Short’ning then the legal strife,
Thine adopted children make them
   Heirs of everlasting life.

5    Every present soul receiving
     In thy mercy’s arms embrace,
Write our names among the living
   Number with the faithful race:
Hallowed vessels of election
   For those purer mansions meet,
Children of the resurrection
   Take us to thy glorious seat.

28.

1    Father, Son, and Spirit, come,
     And with thine own abide;
Holy God, to make thee room,
   Our hearts we open wide,
Thee, and only thee request
To every asking sinner given:
   Come, our life, and peace, and rest,
   Our all in earth and heaven.

2    Born again that thee we may
     In spirit and truth adore,
Come, and in thy temples stay
   And never leave us more:
Thee our faithful souls desire;
Because we know thee now in part,
Nothing less can we require,
    Than all thou hast, and art.

3 With resigned simplicity
    And patient earnestness,
Thee we seek; not thine, but thee
    We languish to possess:
Come, and bring thy nature in,
And let thy love unrivaled reign;
Grace we then, and glory win,
    And all in Jesus gain.

29.

1 Spirit of supplication,
    Through Jesus Christ bestowed,
Visit this habitation,
    And make us thine abode;
To pour a mournful prayer
    Help our infirmity,
And all our souls prepare,
    Great God, to compass thee.

2 Spirit of faith, discover
    To us the crucified,
The sinners’ friend, and lover
    Who for his haters died:
Set forth the Lamb atoning,
    As slaughtered in our stead,
And let us hear him groaning,
    And see him bow his head.

3 Help us to look upon him
    By us transfixed and torn,
The Lord of all to own him,
    And o’er our Saviour mourn
With tears of true contrition
  Bewail a tortured God,
And find him a physician
  Who heals us by his blood.

4  O might we now relenting
    Confess the deicide,
And while we lie lamenting
    Perceive his blood applied!
No longer let us grieve him
    Who joy to us imparts,
But lovingly receive him
    Into our broken hearts!

30.
  For the Evening.

1  Another day preserved by grace,
    We end it with our Saviour’s praise,
Symphonious to the choir above,
    And triumph in his guardian love!
        Angels, with your wings outspread
    Take your stand around our bed.

2  We soon shall wake, with you to sing
    In presence of our heavenly King,
With you unutterably blest
    Shall always praise, and never rest:
        Smooth, as the melodious lay,
    Endless ages roll away.

3  O that the joyful day were come,
    Which calls our happy spirits home,
O could we join our friends in light,
    And reach our Father’s house tonight,
        Sweetly close our willing eyes,
    Open them in paradise!
31.

1 How happy are they
   Who for happiness stay,
   And attend on their Lord
Ever faithful and true to accomplish his word:
   Who calmly look up,
   As prisoners of hope,
   For liberty sigh,
And gladly believe their Redeemer is nigh.

2 This blessing is ours,
   Whom Jesus o’erpowers,
   And keeps by his grace,
Till on him we lay hold, and his promise embrace,
   Till in him we confide,
   Whose blood is applied,
   And of pardon possessed
In the Eden of love beatifical rest.

3 O would he appear
   Our Deliverer here,
   And his prisoners release
By a sight of his love, and a taste of his peace!
   Himself if he show,
   With singing we go,
   And in triumph remove
To partake of his joy in the country above.

4 Come, heavenly Lord,
   The present reward,
   The full happiness be
Of us, and of all who are waiting for thee:
   Thy favor and mind,
   With thee let us find,
   And fulness of grace,
And glory obtain in a glimpse of thy face.
32.

1 Ah, what shall we do,
   Our pardon to gain,
   And holiness true
      With Jesus obtain;
   Our utmost endeavour
      Too weak to procure
   His forfeited favor,
      Or make our hearts pure!

2 For mercy and grace,
   We only can cry,
   And wait in his ways,
      Till Jesus pass by,
   To our supplication
      Humanely attend,
   And bring us salvation
      Which never shall end.

3 The cry of our heart
   Thou waitest to hear,
   And ready thou art
      Our Lord to appear,
   To give us thy Spirit;
      And then we are free,
   And then we inherit
      All fulness in thee.

33.

1 Prince of everlasting peace,
   Us thy meanest servants bless,
   Source of unanimity,
      Make us one through faith in thee.

2 By the virtue of thy blood
   Men are reconciled to God:
Reconciled through thee alone
Men are with each other one.

3 Pardon then to us impart,
Sprinkle every waiting heart,
To the head and members join
Cemented by blood divine:

4 Added to thy lambs and sheep
Us within thy bosom keep,
In the purity of peace,
In the bond of perfectness.

5 By the Spirit of thy love
Re-begotten from above,
Heavenward let our souls ascend,
Seek the joys that never end.

6 Be thyself our whole desire,
Till we reach the raptured choir,
There, with all thy family,
Gaze, forever gaze on thee.

34.
For the Master.

1 Lord, I the messengers receive,
And firmly their report believe,
Who by thy order testify
Of judgment and salvation nigh:
Hunted by all the faithless race,
They here shall find an hiding-place,
And till the storm is turned aside,
Secure beneath my roof abide.

2 My love they amply will repay,
If I their warning voice obey,
Hang out the covenanted sign,
The sacred red, the blood divine;
Then, though thy plagues our land o’erflow,
And lay our lofty cities low,
No evil shall I feel, or dread
Protected by the scarlet thread.

35.

1 Jesus, by our prayers invited,
   Condescend to be our guest,
With the sons of men delighted
   In thy ransomed creature rest,
Claim us, for thy purchased home,
Come, thou friend of sinners, come.

2 In an earthly habitation
   Still if thou art pleased to dwell,
Visit us with thy salvation,
   God of love, thyself reveal,
Take possession of thine own,
Finish what thy grace begun.

3 Lord, thou hitherto hast brought us
   By thy sweet alluring grace,
Surely thou to this hast wrought us
   That we would our friend embrace:
Come, the loving Spirit cries,
Come, the longing bride replies.

4 Power divine hath made us willing
   All thy fulness to receive:
Now thine own desires fulfilling
   Come, and in thy temples live,
Thou in us, and we in thee
Dwell to all eternity.
36.

1 My burden unable to bear,
   With sin above measure oppressed,
   I pour out a sorrowful prayer,
   I groan for redemption and rest;
   In hope of approaching relief,
   I call on his wonderful name,
   Whose pity attends to my grief,
   Forever and ever the same.

2 He came a lost world to redeem,
   He waits a lost world to forgive:
   The sinner is welcome to him,
   The dead by his dying may live:
   In mercy alone he delights,
   Unspeakably loving and kind,
   The weary and burdened invites Repose in his bosom to find.

3 My only resource in despair,
   To Jesus I faithfully flee,
   And cast a whole mountain of care
   On him, that hath answered for me:
   His body the balsam supplied,
   My burden of guilt it endured:
   And lo, in his death I confide,
   And lo, by his wounds I am cured.

4 His free inexhaustible love,
   (A sea without bottom or shore,) Doth all my affliction remove,
   And sorrow and sin are no more:
   His mercy the pardon bestows
   With blissful assurance and rest,
   And lulled to eternal repose,
   I sink on Immanuel’s breast!
37.

1 Happy day of his returning,
   Day with no succeeding night,
Period of our pain and mourning,
   Blaze of uncreated light,
When shall we thy glories see,
Live the life of heaven in thee!

2 Pains and griefs—we soon shall lose ’em
   In the presence of our Lord,
Sink on the Redeemer’s bosom,
   Find in him our full reward,
Mightily, supremely blest,
Lulled to everlasting rest.

3 Joyous hope our sorrows cheering,
   Exiles sad while here we stay!
Jesus by his last appearing
   Comes to wipe our tears away,
Comes to claim his ready bride,
Comes to seat us at his side.

4 Haste, thou God of our salvation,
   Whom by faith in part we know,
Show thyself the consummation
   Of our bliss begun below,
All our happiness above,
Swallow up our souls in love.

38.
   For a Family of Believers.

1 Except the Lord conduct the plan,
Our best-concerted schemes are vain,
   And never can succeed;
We spend our wretched strength for nought:
But if our works in God are wrought,
   They shall be blest indeed.

2 Lord, if thou didst thyself inspire
   Our hearts with this intense desire
   Thy goodness to proclaim,
   Thy glory if we now intend;
   O let our deed begin and end
   Complete in Jesus’ name.

3 In Jesus’ name behold we meet!
   Far from an evil world retreat,
   And all its frantic ways,
   One only thing resolved to know,
   And square our useful lives below
   By reason and by grace.

4 Not in the tombs we pine to dwell,
   Not in the dark monastic cell
   By vows and grates confined;
   Freely to all ourselves we give,
   Constrained by Jesu’s love to live
   The servants of mankind.

5 Now Jesus, now, thy love impart,
   To govern each devoted heart,
   And fit us for thy will,
   Deep founded in the truth of grace
   Build up our rising church, and place
   The city on the hill.

6 O let our faith and love abound,
   O let our lives to all around
   With purest lustre shine,
   That all, but us, our works may see,
   And give the glory, Lord, to thee,
   The heavenly light divine.
39.

1 Come wisdom, power, and grace divine,
    Come Jesus, in thy name to join
    An happy chosen band,
    Who fain would prove thine utmost will,
    And all thy righteous laws fulfil
    In love’s benign command.

2 If pure essential love thou art,
    Thy nature into every heart,
    Thy loving self inspire,
    Bid all our simple souls be one,
    United in a bond unknown,
    Baptized with heavenly fire.

3 Still may we to our center tend,
    To spread thy praise our common end,
    To help each other on,
    Companions through the wilderness,
    To share a moment’s pain, and seize
    An everlasting crown.

4 Jesus, our tendered souls prepare,
    Infuse the softest, social care,
    The warmest charity,
    The bowels of our bleeding Lamb,
    The virtues of thy wondrous name,
    The heart which was in thee.

5 Supply what every member wants,
    To found the fellowship of saints,
    Thy Spirit, Lord, supply,
    So shall we all thy love receive,
    Together to thy glory live,
    And to thy glory die.
40.

1 O Saviour, cast a gracious smile,
   Our gloomy guilt, and selfish guile,
   And shy mistrust remove,
   The true simplicity impart,
   To fashion every passive heart,
   And mould it into love.

2 Our naked hearts to thee we raise;
   Whate’er obstructs thy work of grace
   Forever drive it hence:
   Exert thine all-subduing power,
   And each regenerate soul restore
   To childlike innocence.

3 Soon as in thee we gain a part,
   Our spirit purged from nature’s art
   Appears by grace forgiven,
   We then pursue our sole design,
   To lose our melting will in thine,
   And want no other heaven.

4 O that we now the power might feel
   To do on earth thy blessed will
   As angels do above!
   In thee the life, the truth, the way
   To walk, and perfectly obey
   Thy sweet constraining love!

5 Jesus, fulfil our one desire,
   And spread the spark of living fire
   Through every hallowed breast,
   Bless with divine conformity,
   And give us now to find in thee
   Our everlasting rest.
41.

1 How happy we whom grace unites
   In Jesus’ precious name,
   Whom mercy’s secret call invites
   To banquet with the Lamb!

2 We see our kind supporter’s hand,
   And joyfully adore,
   And hast’ning to the heavenly land,
   We send our hearts before.

3 Jesus shall there our hearts secure
   And keep our life above,
   As sure as Christ is God, as sure
   As Christ our God is love.

4 And when he has prepared our place,
   Our Lord again shall come—
   Come, Lord, and show thy glorious face,
   And look thy pilgrims home!

42.

1 Holy Lamb, who thee confess,
   Followers of thy holiness,
   Thee they ever keep in view,
   Ever ask,—What shall we do?

2 Governed by thine only will,
   All thy words we would fulfil,
   Would in all thy footsteps go,
   Walk as Jesus walked below.

3 While thou didst on earth appear,
   Servant to thy servants here,
   Mindful of thy place above,
   All thy life was prayer and love.
4 Such our whole employment be,
Works of faith and charity,
Works of love on man bestowed,
Secret intercourse with God.

5 Early in the temple met
Let us still our Maker greet,
Nightly to the mount repair,
Join our praying pattern there:

6 There by wrestling faith obtain
Power to work for God again,
Power his image to retrieve,
Power like thee our Lord to live.

7 Vessels, instruments of grace,
Pass we thus our happy days
'Twixt the mount and multitude,
Doing, or receiving good:

8 Glad to pray, and labour on,
'Till our earthly course is run,
'Till we on the sacred tree
Bow the head, and die like thee.

43.

1 Come, thou all-inspiring Spirit,
Into every longing heart,
Bought for us by Jesus’ merit
Now thy blissful self impart:
Sign our uncontested pardon,
Wash us in th’ atoning blood,
Make our souls a watered garden,
Fill our sinless souls with God.
2 If thou gav’st th’ enlarged desire
   Which for thee we ever feel,
Now our panting hearts inspire,
   Now our canceled sin reveal:
Claim us for thine habitation,
   Dwell within our hallowed breast,
Seal us heirs of full salvation
   Fitted for our heavenly rest.

3 Give us quietly to tarry
   ’Till for all thy glory meet,
Waiting like attentive Mary,
   Happy at our Saviour’s feet;
Keep us from the world unspotted,
   From all earthly passions free,
Wholly to thyself devoted,
   Fixed to live and die for thee.

4 Wrestling on in mighty prayer,
   Lord, we will not let thee go,
’Till thou all thy mind declare,
   All thy grace on us bestow;
Peace, the seal of sin forgiven,
   Joy, and perfect love impart,
Present, everlasting heaven,
   All thou hast, and all thou art.

44.

1 Head of the church, appear, appear,
Assembled with thy members here,
Who in thy name and Spirit meet,
   And tremble at thy wounded feet.

2 O’ercome, o’erwhelmed with mercy’s power
We meekly wonder and adore,
With silent awe thy goodness prove,
   Or triumph in thy dying love.
3 Whene’er thou dost thy love reveal,
    Unutterable bliss we feel,
    We feel the virtue of thy name
    In holy fear, and humble shame.

4 Constrained by pure delight we own
    The everlasting life begun,
    Glory anticipate in grace,
    And heaven in thy smiling face.

OCCASIONAL HYMNS.

45.
For a Woman Near the Time of Her Travail.²

1 Righteous, O Lord, thy judgments are!
    Ordained by thy decree
    In sorrow to conceive and bear,
    I bow my soul to thee:
    Daughter of Eve, thy voice I hear
    Appointing my distress,
    And prostrate in the dust revere
    Thy awful righteousness.

2 The misery of my fall I feel,
    And patiently sustain:
    But save me from th’ extremest ill,
    The more than mortal pain:
    The utmost penalty decreed,
    The utmost wrath forbear,
    And spare me, O thou woman’s seed,
    Thou Son of Mary, spare.

3 If once to swell the virgin’s womb,
    Great God, thou didst not scorn,
    But man thyself for me become
    Of thy own creature born;

²A manuscript precursor of this hymn appears in MS Richmond, 91–93.
Partaker of our flesh and blood,
Our sorrows still partake,
And screen me from the curse of God
For thy own nature’s sake.

4 O Son of man, assuage my woes,
My rising fears control,
And sanctify the mother’s throes,
And save the mother’s soul:
Thy blessed, sanctifying will
I know concerning me,
By faith assured I ne’er shall feel
That endless misery.

5 My Saviour from the wrath to come,
From present evil save,
And farther mitigate my doom,
Nor let me see the grave:
Still hold my soul in life, I pray,
A dying worm reprieve,
And let me all my lengthened day
Unto thy glory live.

6 Now, Lord, I have to thee made known
My troubled soul’s request,
And sink in calm dependence down
Within thy arms to rest:
Secure in danger’s blackest hour
Thy faithfulness to prove,
Protected by almighty power,
And everlasting love.

46.3

1 Save, Jesus, save! My hour is near
Of sorrow and distress,
And lo, I faint, oppressed with fear
Of my own helplessness:

---

3A manuscript precursor of this hymn appears in MS Richmond, 93–95.
My littleness of faith I feel,
   And sink o’erwhelmed again,
Awed by the salutary ill,
   The pain-preventing pain.

2 But ah, thou know’st an heavier care
Hath all my soul o’erspread,
And pain and death are light to bear
   Compared with what I dread:
My life I freely would resign,
   And lay this moment down,
Rather than see a child of mine
   Eternally undone.

3 But wilt thou suffer me to bear
   A sad reverse of thee,
A graceless, miserable heir
   Of endless misery;
Expose it to the world’s black wild,
   And sin’s malignant power?
And must I, Lord, bring forth a child
   For Satan to devour?

4 Rather resume the blessings lent,
   And stop thy creature’s breath,
And by a temporal prevent
   An everlasting death:
Before it draws this tainted air,
   My harmless infant slay,
Or let the sad Benoni tear
   My bleeding life away.

5 The keys of death and hell are held
   In thine almighty hand,
And all the powers of nature yield
   To thy supreme command:
Destroy the candidate for light,
   Or slay me in its stead,
Childless among the living write,
   Or free among the dead.
6 Or let the sleeping babe remain
   In its maternal tomb,
And safe from sin, and safe from pain
   Forever swell the womb;
'Till wakened by the trumpet’s sound
   We both triumphant rise,
And see our life with glory crowned,
   And grasp him in the skies.

    47. 4

1 But if thou otherwise ordain,
   All-gracious as thou art,
And bring me through the perilous pain
   To act a mother’s part;
My infant yet unborn receive,
   An offering to the sky,
And let it for thy glory live,
   And for thy glory die.

2 To thee, great God, in Jesus’ name
   Devoted from the womb,
For thine alone my offspring claim,
   And when thou wilt resume:
My child, like Jephtha’s daughter seize,
   A sacrifice divine:
Or if a son his parents bless,
   The Nazarite is thine.

3 Or in the morning of his day,
   Or call him back at noon,
I will not murmur for his stay,
   Or cry, he died too soon!
I freely render thee thy right,
   And in thy pleasure rest,
For love and wisdom infinite
   Must always choose the best.

   4 A manuscript precursor of this hymn appears in MS Richmond, 95–96.
4 My every creature-good remove:
    But let thy handmaid gain
The witness of thy pard’ning love,
    And still the grace retain;
Retain, by mercy reconciled,
    The sense of sin forgiven,
And meet at last my happy child
    With all my friends in heaven.

48.5

1 To whom should I for succour fly,
    While danger, pain, and death are nigh,
And nature’s fears return?
    Jesus, my only sure relief,
I tell to thee my secret grief,
    And in thy bosom mourn.

2 I fear, lest in my trying hour
    The strength of pain should quite o’erpower
    My soul’s infirmity,
    Lest, when my sorrows most prevail,
My patience and my faith should fail,
    And leave me void of thee.

3 Ev’n now I faint o’erwhelmed with dread,
    I tremble at my greatest need
    Lest thou should’st hide thy face,
    Afflict me more than I can bear,
And then withhold the aid of prayer,
    The power to sue for grace.

4 Yet though I am sometimes afraid,
    On thee my feeble mind is staid,
    My trust is in the Lord,
    I hold thee with a trembling hand,
And borne above myself I stand,
    Supported by thy word.

5A manuscript version of this hymn, in Sarah Wesley’s hand, is found in MS Travail, 6–7.
5 In God my Saviour I confide,
Whose truth and love are on my side;
If now for help I pray,
Thou in the depth of my distress
Wilt send a word of heavenly grace,
And save me through that day.

6 Thou wilt, I humbly trust, impart
The sense of pardon to my heart,
The witness of thy love:
Thy love shall all my griefs control,
Thy love shall calm my fluttering soul,
And hide my life above.

7 Armed with thy love and patient mind,
I come, to thy blest will resigned,
For all events prepared,
Soon as I know my pardon sealed,
Assured that Jesus is my shield,
And infinite reward.

49.6

1 At this solemn turn of fate,
Looking for my painful hour,
Lord, on thee I meekly wait,
Wait to prove thy gracious power:
From the eye of man concealed,
Lo, to thee, my God, alone
I my soul and body yield;
Let thy will on both be done.

2 Here I give myself to prayer,
Commune with my heart and thee,
Learn to cast on God my care,
Long thy saving health to see:

---

6A manuscript version of this hymn, in Sarah Wesley’s hand, is found in MS Travail, 1–3.
Might I thy salvation feel,
   Might I Abba Father cry,
Ready then for all thy will,
   Meet I were to live, or die.

3 O for love and pity sake,
   Look on thy unconscious child,
Cast my sins behind thy back,
   Tell me thou art reconciled,
Let me in thy strength rejoice,
   Let me feel my sins forgiven,
Answer to the shepherd’s voice,
   Know my name enrolled in heaven.

4 Now explain thy whole design,
   From my earliest infancy
Why didst thou my will incline,
   Draw my simple heart to thee?
Wherefore did I haunt the shade,
   Sad, disconsolate, alone,
Ever of thy frown afraid,
   Wretched for a God unknown?

5 Show me what I wanted then,
   Give me what I still require,
Fairer than the sons of men,
   Me with thy pure love inspire;
Thou my long-sought happiness,
   Sum of my desires thou art,
Breathe the Spirit of thy grace,
   Breathe thyself into my heart.

50.7

1 Full of trembling expectation,
   Feeling much, and fearing more,
Author, God of my salvation,
   I thy timely aid implore:

7A manuscript version of this hymn, in Sarah Wesley’s hand, is found in MS Travail, 4–5.
1 Suffering Son of man, be near me,
   All my sufferings to sustain,
   By thy sorer griefs to cheer me,
   By thy more than mortal pain.

2 Call to mind that unknown anguish
   In thy days of flesh below,
   When thy troubled soul did languish
   Under a whole world of woe,
   When thou didst our curse inherit,
   Groan beneath our guilty load,
   Burdened with a wounded spirit,
   Bruised by all the wrath of God.

3 By thy most severe temptation
   In that dark satanic hour,
   By thy last mysterious passion
   Screen me from the adverse power:
   By thy fainting in the garden,
   By thy bloody sweat I pray,
   Write upon my heart the pardon,
   Take my sins and fears away.

4 By the travail of thy Spirit,
   By thine outcry on the tree,
   By thine agonizing merit
   In my pangs remember me!
   By thy death I thee conjure,
   A weak, dying soul befriend,
   Make me patient to endure,
   Make me faithful to the end.

5

1 Help my loving Lord and Saviour!
   Saved before, I implore
   Thy continued favour.
2 Still on thee I cast my care,
    Thou art still pleased to feel
    What thy members bear.

3 With our weakness and temptation
    Touched thou art; feels thy heart
    Exquisite compassion.

4 Well thou know’st the fear and sorrow
    Which I know, sunk in woe,
    Trembling for tomorrow;

5 Trembling, lest without thy power,
    Feeble I faint and die
    In my coming hour:

6 Tried above what I can bear
    Lest I yield, lose my shield,
    Void of faith and prayer.

7 Let me now thy help secure,
    Saviour then strength ordain,
    Help me then t’ endure.

8 Me baptized into thy passion,
    Made like thee, visit me
    With thy great salvation.

9 By the travail of thy Spirit
    Me sustain, by thy pain,
    By thy bleeding merit.

10 In my bitterest affliction
    By thy cup hold me up,
    By thy dereliction.

11 Now I have thine aid bespoken,
    Peace impart to my heart,
    Give the loving token.
12 Love of my expiring Saviour
   Be the sign I am thine,
   Thou art mine forever!

52.

1 Jesus, thou Son of Mary,
   Thou Son of the Most-High,
   Lo, at thy feet I tarry,
   And on thy truth rely;
   In awful expectation
   Of my distressing hour,
   I look for thy salvation
   For all thy mercy’s power.

2 On thee my health in sickness
   My feeble soul is staid,
   Thy strength in human weakness
   Is perfectly displayed:
   Thou never wilt forsake me
   Who on thy love depend,
   But to thy bosom take me
   ’Till pain with life shall end.

53.

1 Lord, I magnify thy power,
   Thy love and faithfulness,
   Kept to my appointed hour
   In safety and in peace:
   Let thy providential care
   Still my sure protection be,
   ’Till a living child I bear,
   A sacrifice to thee.10

2 Who so near the birth hast brought,
   (Since I on thee rely)
   Tell me, Saviour, wilt thou not Thy farther help supply?

8A manuscript version of this hymn, in Charles Wesley’s hand, is found in MS Travail, 12.
9Charles sent the first three stanzas of this hymn, “just as it came to my mind,” in a letter to his wife Sarah on 17 May 1755, concerning the pending birth of their daughter Martha Maria. Sadly, the child died shortly after her birth. The letter is at Emory University, MARBL, Wesley Family Papers, Box 4, file 55. It contains three textual variants, noted below. A manuscript version of the hymn, in Sarah Wesley’s hand, is found in MS Travail, 10–11.
10In the original letter this line reads: “And give it back to thee.”
Whisper to my list’ning soul,
    Wilt thou not my strength renew,
Nature’s fears and pangs\textsuperscript{11} control,
    And bring thy handmaid through?

3    Father, in the name I pray
    Of thine incarnate love,
Humbly ask, that as my day
    My suffering\textsuperscript{12} strength may prove:
When my sorrows most increase,
    Let thy strongest joys be given;
Jesus come \textit{with} my distress,
    And agony is heaven.

4    Father, Son, and Holy Ghost,
    For good remember me,
Me whom thou hast caused to trust
    For more than life in thee:
With me in the fire remain,
    ’Till like burnished gold I shine,
Meet, through consecrated pain,
    To see the face divine.

54.

1    Cast on the fidelity
    Of my redeeming Lord,
I shall his salvation see,
    According to his word:
Credence to his word I give:
    My Saviour in distresses past
Will not now his handmaid leave,
    But bring me through the last.

2    Better than my boding fears
    To me thou oft hast proved,
Oft observed my silent tears,
    And challenged thy beloved;

\textsuperscript{11}In the original letter this reads “pains” rather than “pangs.”
\textsuperscript{12}The original letter reads “passive strength” rather than “suffering strength.”
Mercy to my rescue flew,
And death ungrasped his fainting prey,
Pain before thy face withdrew,
And sorrow fled away.

3 Now as yesterday the same,
   In all my troubles nigh,
Jesus, on thy word and name
   I steadfastly rely:
Sure as now the grief I feel,
The promised joy I soon shall have,
Saved again to sinners tell
   Thy power and will to save.

4 To thy blessed will resigned,
   And staid on thee alone,
I thy perfect strength shall find,
   Thy faithful mercies own,
Compassed round with songs of praise
My all to my Deliverer give,
   Spread the miracle of grace,
   And for thy glory live.

55

1 Father, and friend of humankind,
   Supporter of this tottering clay,
I rest on thee my feeble mind,
   On thee my shrinking flesh I stay,
And, called thy chastisement to bear,
Pour out a calmly pensive prayer.

2 My life I know secured above,
   Hid in those gracious hands divine,
But O, my heavier care remove,
   And claim my unborn child for thine,
The burden of my womb receive,
Thine, only thine to die, or live.

13A manuscript version of this hymn, in Sarah Wesley’s hand, is found in MS Travail, 8–9.
3 If foreordained to see the light,
   It bursts into a world of woe,
Seize the young sinner as thy right,
   Before it good or evil know,
And cleanse in the baptismal flood,
   And wash my babe through Jesus’ blood.

4 Ev’n from the sacred laver take,
   And guard its favoured infancy,
Nor ever, Lord, thy charge forsake,
   Nor let thy charge depart from thee,
But walk in all thy righteous ways,
   Till meet to see thy glorious face.

56.
For a Woman in Travail.

1 Jesus, help! No longer tarry,
   Hasten to redeem thine own:
Son of God, and Son of Mary,
   Answering to thy creature’s groan,
Now omnipotently near,
   Prince of life in death appear.

2 Save her by thy righteous merit
   From the just reward of sin:
By the travail of thy Spirit,
   Bring the timely succours in;
By thy passion on the tree
   Save a soul that gasps to thee.

3 Soften, sanctify the anguish,
   Sad memorial of her fall;
Let her on thy bosom languish,
   Till thou bring her safe through all,
Ransomed from th’ extreme distress,
   Bid her live—in perfect peace.
4 God of her complete salvation,
    Heal, and bid her body rise,
Let her soul with exultation
    Mount to thee beyond the skies,
Happy as thy saints above,
Lost in her Redeemer’s love.

57.

1 Hear, O thou friend of humankind,
   Thou Son of Mary hear,
And let thy suffering handmaid find
   The answer of our prayer.
Thy Spirit’s mixed with nature’s cries
   Through thee to heaven ascend:
O send deliverance from the skies,
   A swift deliverance send.

2 Save her, thyself of woman born,
   Thyself the Son of man,
The curse into a blessing turn,
   And sanctify the pain:
Be thou a present succour found
   In time of greatest need,
And while her sorrows most abound,
   Her comforts shall exceed.

3 This keenest sense of deep distress
   Which feeble flesh can feel,
O’erpower, and swallow up in peace
   And joy unspeakable:
Thy love shall bring her safely through:
   Thy love to her be given,
And change the pains of hell into
   The ecstasies of heaven.

4 So shall the ransomed sinner give
   To thee her added days,
So shall the joyful mother live
   A mon’ment of thy praise;
She and her house shall serve the Lord,
    Till all from earth remove
In sounds of glory to record
    Thine everlasting love.

58.

1 Jesus, we ask thy promised aid;
   Thou who for us a curse was made,
   The penalty extreme
   Far from thy chosen one remove,
   And now the object of thy love
   From curse and death redeem.

2 First in the primitive offence
   The curse she feels with quicker sense:
   But, of a woman born,
   Thou didst its utmost burden bear,
   To make it fall more light on her,
   And to a blessing turn.

3 With pity then the anguish see,
   The fruits of sin endured by thee,
   Thou patient Man of Woe:
   Thy sufferings past recall to mind,
   Shorten in her thy pangs behind,
   And break the mortal blow.

4 In mercy mitigate her pain,
   Her feeble fainting soul sustain
   With comforts from above;
   Strengthen, till all her pains are past,
   And let her every moment taste
   The cordial of thy love.

5 Before her weary eyes display
   The bed where her Redeemer lay
   A Lamb transfixed and torn!
The place thou never canst forget,
Where thou hast paid our utmost debt,
    And all our sorrows borne.

6 O let thy grief dry up her tears,
And while thy mangled form appears,
    Thy visage marred with blood,
Let trouble, fear, and torture cease,
And all her happy soul confess
    Her Saviour and her God.

7 Victorious, with thy cross in view,
By thy own travail bring her through
    The agonizing hour,
A living monument of praise,
A witness of redeeming grace,
    And love’s eternal power.

59.
Thanksgiving for Her Safe Delivery.

1 Blessing, and praise, and thanks, and love
    Let God, the Saviour-God receive,
Who sent the succours from above,
    And bade the dying sinner live!
The bitterness of death is past,
    The mortal agony is o’er
Brought through the fire, she lives at last
    To love, and wonder, and adore.

2 Long in the toils of hell she lay,
    (While torture tore her tender frame,)
And meekly sighed her life away,
    A picture of the bleeding Lamb!
Her eyes with looking upward failed,
    And sought the rest of endless night;
But Christ her Advocate prevailed,
    And stopped the spirit in its flight.
3 When nature’s strength and sense were gone,
   And death’s cold hand had grasped his prey,
God held her soul in life unknown,
   And re-inspired the breathless clay:
God heard his wrestling people plead
   Strong in the faith himself had given,
Mighty in prayer which wakes the dead,
   In prayer which shuts and opens heaven.

4 Touched by the healing hand divine,
   She lives, she lives to praise her Lord:
Jesus, the work and praise be thine,
   Thy name be blest, revered, adored!
Thou hast thy gracious word fulfilled,
   And saved her in her last distress,
The promise and the prayer is sealed,
   Sealed on her heart in gospel-peace.

5 Wherefore with joyful lips and heart,
   Thee, Jesus, Lord of life we own,
And sing how great and good thou art,
   How near to help and save thine own!
To thee our grateful all we give,
   Thine, wholly thine resolved to be,
And only for thy glory live,
   And die a sacrifice to thee.

Hymn for a Newborn Child.14

1 Father, Son, and Spirit come,
   Enter now thy human shrine,
Take my offspring from the womb;
   Mine he is not, Lord, but thine:
Thine this moment let him be,
   Thine to all eternity!

2 Seize, O seize his tender heart
   Beating to the vital war;
Everlasting life impart,
   Sow the seed of glory there:

14Charles wrote this hymn for the birth of his own first child (John), and a nephew of William Lunell born the same day. See his letter to William Lunell (August 22, 1752).
Grace be to my infant given,
Grace the principle of heaven.

3 Soon as reason’s glimmering ray
   Feebly faint begins to shine,
Let the spark of grace display
   Stronger influence divine,
All the life of sin control,
Spread throughout his newborn soul.

4 Father, draw him from his birth
   With the cords of heavenly love,
From the trivial joys of earth
   Raise his mind to joys above,
Gently lead thy favourite on,
Till thou giv’st him to thy Son.

5 Rise the woman’s conquering seed,
   In his ransomed nature rise,
Bruiser of the serpent’s head,
   Give him back his paradise,
Nature into grace convert,
Grave thine image on his heart.

6 Spirit of life, and love, and power,
   The deep things of God reveal,
Seal him from his natal hour,
   Him the heir of glory seal,
Strong with sevenfold energy
Stamp, and fit him for the sky.

7 Father, Son, and Spirit come,
   Enter now thy human shrine,
Take my offspring from the womb;
   Mine he is not, Lord, but thine:
Thine this moment let him be,
Thine to all eternity.
61.

1 Helpless babe, who from the womb
   Dost this hour thy course begin,
Hasty trav’ler to the tomb,
   Born in misery and sin,
Born into a vale of tears,
   To a world of trouble born,
Subject of our hopes and fears,
   Shall thy friends rejoice, or mourn?

2 Thee an heritage from God,
   Thee whom God vouchsafes to give,
Not in wrath but love bestowed,
   Thankfully we should receive;
But when all thy dangers rise,
   Passions, pains, and sins, and snares,
Fear rebukes our forward joys,
   Turns our praises into prayers.

3 God, whose eye doth all things see,
   Hidden from short-sighted man,
All thy works are known to thee,
   All our springs of joy and pain:
Knows thy wise omniscient mind
   What the newborn child shall prove;
Whether mine his God will find,
   Will insure thy hate, or love.

4 But if now thy prescience sees
   Scenes of misery and vice,
If his future wickedness
   Now offends thy glorious eyes,
Ere the dire decree bring forth,
   Ere he turn from thee his will,
Crush the viper in the birth,
   Save him from a world of ill.

15Ori. (both edns.), “Whither”; a misprint.
Do not suffer him to live
A transgressor from the womb,
Thy good Spirit by sin to grieve,
Rather now prevent his doom;
Hear thy Spirit’s cry within
A poor earthly parent’s breast,
Save my helpless child from sin,
Snatch him now to endless rest.

62.
At the Baptism of a Child.

1 God of eternal truth and love,
Vouchsafe the promised grace we claim,
Thine own great ordinance approve,
The child baptized into thy name
Partaker of thy nature make,
And give her all thine image back.

2 Born in the dregs of sin and time,
These darkest, last, apostate days,
Burdened with Adam’s curse and crime
Thou in thy mercy’s arms embrace,
And wash out all her guilty load,
And quench the brand in Jesus’ blood.

3 Father, if such thy sovereign will,
If Jesus did the rite enjoin,
Annex thy hallowing Spirit’s seal,
And let the grace attend the sign;
The seed of endless life impart,
Seize for thy own our infant’s heart.

4 Answer on her thy wisdom’s end
In present and eternal good,
Whate’er thou didst for man intend,
Whate’er thou hast on man bestowed,
Now to this favoured babe be given,
Pardon, and holiness, and heaven.

5 In presence of thy heavenly host
   Thyself we faithfully require;
Come Father, Son, and Holy Ghost
   By blood, by water, and by fire,
And fill up all thy human shrine,
And seal our souls forever thine.

63.
Hymns for Parents.

1 Father of all, by whom we are,
   For whom was made whatever is,
Who hast intrusted to our care
   A candidate for glorious bliss,
Poor worms of earth, for help we cry,
   For grace to guard what grace hath given,
We ask the wisdom from on high
   To train our infant up for heaven.

2 We tremble at the danger near,
   And crowds of wretched parents see,
Who blindly fond their children rear
   In tempers far as hell from thee:
Themselves the slaves of sense and praise
   Their babes who pamper and admire,
And make the helpless infants pass
   To murderer Moloch through the fire.

3 But let not us the demon please,
   Our offspring to destruction doom,
Strengthen a sin-sick soul’s disease,
   Or damn him from his mother’s womb;
Rather this hour resume his breath
  From selfishness and pride to save,
By death prevent the second death,
  And hide him in the silent grave.

4 Or if thou grant a longer date,
   With resolute wisdom us endue,
To point him out his lost estate,
   His dire apostasy to show,
To time our every smile and frown,
   To mark the bounds of good and ill,
And beat the pride of nature down,
   And bend or break his rising will.

5 Him let us tend, severely kind,
   As guardians of his giddy youth,
As set to form his tender mind
   By principles of virtuous truth,
To fit his soul for heavenly grace,
   Discharge the Christian parent’s part,
And keep him, ’till thy love takes place,
   And Jesus rises in his heart.

64.

1 How fast the chains of nature bind
   Our poor degenerate race!
What darkness clouds the parent’s mind
   If unrenewed by grace!
As sworn to take the tempter’s part
   They fatally employ
Their utmost power and utmost art
   Their offspring to destroy.

2 By Satan’s subtlety beguiled
   To Satan’s school they send,
And each delights the fav’rite child
   To humour and commend:
The proud with ranker pride they fill,
   Heighten their worst disease,
And fondly soothe the stubborn will
   To tenfold stubbornness.

3 With lust of pleasure, wealth, and fame
   Their children they inspire,
And every vain desire inflame,
   And every passion fire:
They wish them good, but rather great,
   Religious, but genteel;
Pious, yet fond of pomp and state;
   As heaven would mix with hell.

4 Adorned in pearl and rich array
   You see the murderer’s prize!
As crowned with flowers, the victims gay
   Are led to sacrifice;
Down a broad easy way they glide
   To endless misery,
And curse their doting parents’ pride
   To all eternity.

5 Others, an half-discerning few,
   The fond excess condemn,
And rush with headlong zeal into
   The merciless extreme;
They vent their passion’s furious heat
   In stern, tyrannic sway,
Their children as their beasts entreat,
   And force the slaves t’ obey.

6 With notions fraught, the Stoics sour
   Pursue their rigid plan,
In weakness look for perfect power,
   In babes the strength of man;
The wisdom ripe of hoary hairs
   From children they require,
’Till time their schemes in pieces tears,
   And all in smoke expire.
Harassed by long domestic war
   With scarce a truce between,
Their children's tender minds abhor
   Th' Egyptian discipline;
They quite throw off the yoke severe,
   O'er nature's wilds to rove,
And hate the objects of their fear
   Whom they could never love.

65.

1 God only wise, almighty, good,
   Send forth thy truth and light,
To point us out the narrow road,
   And guide our steps aright;
To steer our dangerous course between
   The rocks on either hand,
And fix us in the golden mean,
   And bring our charge to land.

2 Made apt by thy sufficient grace
   To teach as taught by thee,
We come to train in all thy ways
   Our rising progeny;
Their selfish will by times subdue,
   And mortify their pride,
And lend their youth a sacred clue
   To find the crucified.

3 We would in every step look up,
   By thy example taught
T' alarm their fear, excite their hope,
   And rectify their thought:
We would persuade their hearts t' obey,
   With mildest zeal proceed,
And never take the harsher way,
   When love will do the deed.
4 For this we ask in faith sincere
   The wisdom from above
   To touch their hearts with filial fear,
   And pure ingenuous love,
   To watch their will to sense inclined,
   Withhold the hurtful food,
   And gently bend their tender mind,
   And draw their souls to God.

66.

1 Father of light, thy needful aid
   To us who ask impart,
   Mistrustful of ourselves, afraid
   Of our own treacherous heart;
   O’erwhelmed with justest fear, again
   To thee for help we call,
   Where many mightier have been slain,
   By thee unsaved, we fall.

2 Unless restrained by grace we are,
   In vain the snare we see,
   We see and rush into the snare
   Of blind idolatry;
   We plunge ourselves in endless woes,
   Our hapless infant sell,
   Resist the light, and side with those
   Who send their babes to hell.

3 Ah, what avails superior light
   Without superior love?
   We see the truth, we judge aright,
   And wisdom’s ways approve;
   We mark the idolizing throng,
   Their cruel fondness blame;
   Their children’s souls we know they wrong,
   And we shall do the same.
4 We censure them, ourselves untried,
   For passionate excess,
   Who train their children up in pride,
   And sloth, and stubbornness:
Less savage in our judgment they
   Who slew their little ones,
   Or left to ravenous beasts a prey,
   Or dashed against the stones.

5 Yet spite of our resolves, we fear
   Our own infirmity,
   And tremble at the trial near,
   And cry, O God, to thee:
We soon shall do what we condemn,
   And down the current borne,
   With shame confess our nature’s stream
   Too strong for us to turn.

6 Our only help in danger’s hour,
   Our only strength thou art,
   Above the world and tempter’s power,
   And greater than our heart.
Us from ourselves thou canst secure
   In nature’s slippery ways,
   And make our feeble footsteps sure
   By thy sufficient grace.

7 If on thy promised grace alone
   We faithfully depend,
   Thou surely wilt protect thy own,
   And keep us to the end,
Wilt make us tenderly discreet
   To guard what thou hast given,
   And bring our child with us to meet
   At thy right hand in heaven.
67.

1 O that my son might live
   A mon’ment of thy grace,
To thee his earliest childhood give,
   To thee his riper days!
My heavenly Father, hear
   In me thy Spirit’s cry,
And grant the child his God to fear,
   Or give him now to die.

2 Ah, do not let him stay
   To grieve thy glorious eyes,
To wander down the beaten way
   Of passion, pride, and vice;
To know the misery
   Which I, alas, have known,
Or saved by fire, if saved like me,
   Or finally undone.

3 Rather in tender grace
   Resume my infant’s breath,
And snatch him from the dangerous maze,
   The brink of second death,
To glorious worlds on high
   His spotless soul receive,
Where all who in their childhood die
   With God forever live.

68.

1 Let Ishmael live
   Devoted to God;
O Father receive
   Whom thou hast bestowed,
Hast purposely given,
   That we may resign
The blessing of heaven,
   The present divine.
2 Thy servants prepare
   With wisdom for this
To bring up an heir
   Of heavenly bliss:
By walking before thee
   His steps let us guide,
And lead him to glory
   Through Jesus’s side.

3 The doting excess
   Of nature remove,
And graciously bless
   Our labours of love,
Our sanctified cares
   With favour allow,
And answer our prayers,
   And answer them now.

4 The blessing we claim
   Now, Father, impart,
Thy nature and name
   Be on his young heart,
Our infant inspire
   With life from on high,
And kindle the fire
   That never shall die.

69.
   The Mother’s Hymn.

1 O what shall I do,
   What method pursue,
In safety to bring my young innocent through?
   What a wonder of grace,
If he ’scapes one whole race,
   Unspoiled by indulgence, unpoisoned by praise!
2 'Tis mercy alone
Can assist him to run
Through a desert, when thousands are daily undone.
That mercy I claim
In Jesus's name,
And believe him a Saviour forever the same.

3 By mercy set free
My Redeemer I see
As willing to save my poor infant as me:
If I trust him, he must
Be true to his trust,
For to all that believe he is gracious and just.

4 I trust him alone
For myself and my son,
That he will not forsake whom he takes for his own:
By grace reconciled
I give him my child;
And if Jesus preserve, he can never be spoiled.

70.
Another [The Mother’s Hymn].

1 What follies abound,
Where reason is drowned
By an heathenish nurse in a torrent of sound!
When by Satan beguiled,
With sonnets defiled,
She angers her Maker, to quiet her child!

2 Who the Saviour and Son
Of Mary have known
They delight to converse with their Jesus alone,
They at all times proclaim
His wonderful name,
And in tending their infants they sing of the Lamb.
3 The Lamb from the throne
   Of his Father came down,
He was flesh of our flesh, he was bone of our bone:
   The omnipotent Lord
By all heaven adored
The invisible Godhead appeared in the Word.

4 With the children of men
   Jehovah was seen,
Through the veil of our dignified nature between;
   The Ancient of days
Discovered his face,
And admitted his angels with rapture to gaze.

5 Who gave all things to be
   What a wonder to see
Him born of his creature, and nursed on her knee!
   The infant divine
(Let all creatures combine
To acknowledge the grace) was as helpless as mine!

[71.] 16
For a Sick Child. 17

1 Father, God of pitying love,
   Let thy yearning bowels move,
Let thine ear attend our cry,
   Help before our infant die.

2 Hear her help-imploring groan,
   Pained with sorrows not her own,
Bruised alas, for our offence
   Save her suffering innocence.

3 Whom but now thy mercy gave
   Keep her from the gaping grave,
Whom thy love persists to give,
   Let her for thy glory live.

16Ori., “72.” Hymns 72 to 86 have also been corrected.

17This poem was written concerning the illness of Charles and Sarah’s second child, Martha Maria.
4 But if thou foreknow’st it best
Not to grant our blind request,
Snatch her from a length of pain,
Take her to thine arms again.

5 Now her spotless soul remove
To the innocents above,
To her kindred in the skies,
To an early paradise.

6 Only while she hence departs,
Let her carry up our hearts,
Rend them, as she rends her clay,
Tear them far from earth away.

7 Far above the world of pain
Let our souls with her’s remain,
Far above its comforts soar,
Stoop to earthly bliss no more.

[72.]
On Her Death.

1 Lovely-fair, but breathless clay,
Whither is thy tenant gone?
Would the soul no longer stay
Prisoner in a world unknown?
Surfeited with life and pain,
Is she fled to heaven again?

2 Wherefore did she visit earth,
Earth so suddenly to leave,
Galled and burdened from the birth,
Only born to cry and grieve?
What was all her life below?
One sad month of fruitless woe.

3 Count we now our mournful gains,
We who called the child our own:
Lo, she pays her mother’s pains
With her last expiring groan:

---

\(^{18}\)This poem was written on the death of Charles and Sarah’s second child, Martha Maria.
Mocking all his fond desires,
Lo, her father’s hope expires!

4 Thus her parents’ grief she cheers,
   Transient as a short-lived flower,
   Scarcely seen she disappears,
   Blooms, and withers in an hour,
Thus our former loss supplies,
Thus our promised comfort dies!

5 But shall sinful man complain
   Stripped by the divine decree?
Dares our impious grief arraign
   Heaven’s tremendous majesty?
Rather let us meekly own
   All is right which God hath done.

6 God hath answered all our prayers,
   Mended after his own will,
Numbered with salvation’s heirs
   Her whose happy change we feel,
   Her whose bliss rebukes our sighs,
Bids us follow to the skies.

7 God, t’ enhance her joy above,
   Gave her a few painful days,
Object of his richest love,
   Vessel of his choicest grace,
   Bade her suffer with his Son,
Die to claim an earlier throne.

8 Best for her so soon to die:
   Best for us how can it be?
Let our bleeding hearts reply,
   Torn from all, O Lord, but thee,
To thy righteous will subdued,
Panting for the sovereign good.
9 Let them pant, and never rest
'Till thy peace our sorrows heal,
Troubled be our aching breast
'Till the balm of love we feel,
Love, which every want supplies,
Love of one that never dies.

10 Might we, Lord, thy love attain!
Cure of every evil this,
This would turn our loss to gain,
Turn our misery into bliss,
Love our Eden here would prove,
Love would make our heaven above.

[73.]
For a Child in the Small-Pox.

1 Father, by the tender name
Thou for man vouchsaf’st to bear,
We thy needful succour claim,
We implore thy pitying care,
For our stricken child distressed:
Wilt thou not our load remove,
Calm the tumult in our breast,
Manifest thy saving love?

2 Love inflicts the plague severe,
Love the dire distemper sends:
Let thy heavenly messenger
Answer all thy gracious ends:
Give us power to watch and pray
Trembling at the threatened loss:
Tear our hearts from earth away,
Nail them to thy bleeding cross.

3 Fain we would obedient prove,
Here on rugged Calvary
Render back the son we love,
Yield our only son to thee:
While he on the altar lies,
   We to thy decree submit,
Offer up our sacrifice,
   Weep in silence at thy feet.

4 Human tears may freely flow
   Authorised by tears divine,
' Till thine awful will we know,
   Comprehend thy whole design:
Jesus wept! And so may we:
   Jesus suffering all thy will,
Felt the soft infirmity;
   Feels his creature's sorrow still.

5 Father of our patient Lord,
   Strengthen us with him to grieve,
Prostrate to receive thy word,
   All thy counsel to receive:
Though we would the cup decline,
   Governed by thy will alone
Ours we struggle to resign:
   Thine, and only thine be done.

6 Life and death are in thine hand:
   In thine hand our child we see
Waiting thy benign command,
   Less beloved by us than thee:
Need we then his life request?
   Jesus understands our fears,
Reads a mother's panting breast,
   Knows the meaning of her tears.

7 Jesus blends them with his own,
   Mindful of his suffering days:
Father, hear thy pleading Son,
   Son of man for us he prays:
What for us he asks, bestow:
    Ours he makes his own request:
Send us life or death; we know,
    Life, or death from thee is best.

[74.]
Thanksgiving for His Recovery.

1  Glory to our God most high
    With joyful hearts we give,
Called like Abraham from the sky
    Our Isaac to receive!
Him as from the dead restored
    Thankful we again embrace,
Taste the goodness of our Lord,
    And sing the donor’s praise.

2  How shall we the gift improve
    A little longer lent?
Father, to receive thy love
    We now our hearts present;
Humbly on thy mercy cast,
    Farther mercy we implore,
Pay thee back thy favours past
    By still accepting more.

3  Jesus (for whose only sake Thou hast restored our child)
Thy most precious gift we take,
    And own thee reconciled;
Wait thy peace and power to feel,
    Peace unspeakable, unknown,
Power to do thy perfect will,
    And serve our God alone.

4  We, if so thy will require,
    Our sacrifice repeat,
Nature’s every fond desire
    To thy decree submit;
Back to thee thine own we give,
   Leave him in thy sovereign hand,
Let him in thy presence live,
   Or die at thy command.

Only while we offer up
   Our dearest blessings here,
Bless us with our heavenly hope
   The constant Comforter,
While our faith by works we prove,
   While the furnace we abide,
Speak us perfected in love,
   Forever justified.

[75.]
Another [Thanksgiving for His Recovery].

Worship, and power, and thanks, and love
   To God, the gracious God and true,
Whose faithfulness again we prove,
   And mercies every moment new:
Jesus hath heard his people’s prayer,
   Our child revived, our son re-given:
Let all his healing name declare,
   And spread his praise through earth and heaven.

Saviour, we at thy hands receive
   This pledge of greater good to come,
And to thy wise disposal leave
   Whom thou hast ransomed from the tomb:
The child, no longer ours, but thine,
   Ev’n from his earliest infancy
To thee we cheerfully resign,
   A servant of thy church and thee.

While here our Samuel we present,
   With favour, Lord, accept the loan,
To thee irrevocably lent,
   And bless and seal him for thine own:
Devoted from his infant days,
    O may he in thy courts be found,
Grow up to minister thy grace,
    And spread through earth the gospel-sound.

[76.]

For a Child Cutting His Teeth.

1 Suffering for another’s sin,
    Why should innocence complain?
Sin by Adam entered in,
    Sin engend’ring grief and pain:
Sin entailed on all our race,
    Forces harmless babes to cry,
Born to sorrow and distress,
    Born to feel, lament, and die.

2 Tortured in his tender frame,
    Struggling with convulsive throes,
Doth he not aloud proclaim
    Guilt the cause of all our woes?
Guilt, whose sad effects appear,
    Guilt original we own,
See it in that starting tear,
    Hear it in that heaving groan!

3 Man’s intemperate offence
    In its punishment we read;
Speechless, by his aching sense
    Guilty doth our infant plead;
Instruments of sin and pain,
    Signs of guilt and misery
Eve’s incontinence explain,
    Point us to the tasted tree.

4 There the bitter root we find,
    Fatal source of nature’s ill,
Ill which all our fallen kind
    With this young apostate feel:
But what we can ne’er remove
   Jesus came to sanctify,
Second Adam from above
   Born for us to live and die.

5 Help, the woman’s heavenly seed,
   Thou that didst our sorrows take,
Turn aside the death decreed,
   Save him for thy nature’s sake!
Pitying Son of man and God,
   Still thy creature’s pains endure;
Quench the fever with thy blood,
   Bless him with a perfect cure.

6 Thine it is to bless and heal,
   Thine to rescue and repair:
On our child the answer seal,
   Thou who didst suggest the prayer:
Send salvation to this house;
   Then to double health restored,
I, and mine will pay our vows,
   I and mine will serve the Lord.

[77.]
At Sending a Child to the Boarding-School.

1 Not without thy direction
   From us our child we send,
And to thy sure protection
   Her innocence commend:
Jesus, thou friend and lover
   Of helpless infancy,
With wings of mercy cover
   A soul belov’d by thee.

2 Evil communication
   O let it not pervert,
Or fill with pride and passion
   Her fond unwary heart;
Preserve her uninfected
   (In answer to our prayers)
From dangers unsuspected,
   From twice ten thousand snares.

3 Let no affections foolish
   Or vain her spirit soil
Let no instructions polish
   Her nature into guile;
No low dissimulation
   Place in her bosom find,
No worldly art or fashion
   Corrupt her simple mind.

4 Our little one, believing
   Beneath thy care we place,
And see thee, Lord, receiving
   Her into thine embrace:
Thyself her inward teacher,
   Thyself her guardian be,
And graciously enrich her
   With all that is in thee.

A Mother’s Act of Resignation on the Death of a Child.¹⁹

1 Peace, my heart, be calm, be still,
Subject to my Father’s will!
God in Jesus reconciled
Calls for his beloved child,
Who on me himself bestowed
Claims the purchase of his blood.

2 Child of prayer, by grace divine
Him I willingly resign
Through his last convulsive throes
Born into the true repose,

¹⁹The original manuscript version of this hymn appears in CW’s letter to Mrs. Berkin, March 17, 1766, commending the resignation with which she had accepted the recent death of her son George.
Born into the world above,
Glorious world of light and love!

3 Through the purple fountain brought,
To his Saviour's bosom caught,
Him in the pure mantle clad,
In the milk-white robe arrayed.
Follower of the Lamb I see;
See the joy prepared for me.

4 Lord, for this alone I stay,
Fit me for eternal day,
Then thou wilt receive thy bride
To the souls beatified,
Then with all thy saints I meet,
Then my rapture is complete.

[79.]
Thanksgiving after Recovery from the Small-Pox.

1 Peace, panting soul, the storm is o’er,
My mortal foe appears no more,
    As brandishing his dart:
But lo, the Prince of life is nigh,
To chase my terrors with his eye,
    And still my fluttering heart.

2 The awful doubt is solved at last,
The bitterness of death is past,
    And blest with a reprieve
My panting soul may now respire;
My body too hath passed the fire,
    And doubly saved I live.

3 'Twas prayer alone that turned the scale,
(The prayer which doth with God prevail)
    And brought him from the sky;
The friend of Lazarus was here,
And dropped again the pitying tear,
And would not let me die.

4 God of my life and health restored,
I own thee for my God and Lord,
Thy power and goodness see,
Accept the token from above,
The pledge of thy forgiving love
The life of heaven in thee.

5 Thy arm omnipotent to save
Hath kindly snatched me from the grave,
And made my body whole:
Oh for thy own compassion sake,
Cast all my sins behind thy back,
And now restore my soul.

6 The confidence divine impart,
The witness breathe into my heart,
And seal my sins forgiven,
Allow me then my last desire,
And send with death the car of fire
That raps my soul to heaven.

[80.]
Another [Thanksgiving after Recovery from the Small-Pox].

1 Sing to the Prince of life and peace,
Let every tongue my Saviour bless,
So strong to help in danger’s hour,
So present in his healing power,
And from the margin of the grave
So good a dying worm to save.

2 Can I forget the solemn day
When grappling with my foe I lay?
O’er my weak flesh from foot to head
The loathsome leprosy was spread,
The foulest plague our race can feel,
The deadliest fruit of sin and hell.

3 The poison boiled in every vein,
The fire broke out in raging pain,
I sunk oppressed through all my powers,
With bruises, wounds, and putrid sores,
My body racked in every part,
And sick to death my fainting heart.

4 Jesus beheld my last distress,
And turned the current of disease,
He stopped my spirit on the wing,
And chased away the grisly king:
His wonder-working arm I own,
And give the praise to God alone.

5 He in the kind physician came,
(Bow all to Jesus’ balmy name!)
Amidst my weeping friends he stood,
And mixed the cordial with his blood,
Displayed his dead-reviving art,
And poured his life into my heart.

6 Brought from the gates of death I give My life to him by whom I live,
Raised from a restless bed of pain
I render him my strength again,
And only wait to prove his grace,
And only breathe, to breathe his praise.

[81.]
Oblation of a Sick Friend.

1 God of love, with pity see,
Succour our infirmity;
Father, let thy will be done;—
Thine we say, but mean our own.
2 Can we of ourselves resign
The most precious loan divine?
With thy loveliest creature part?
Lord, thou seest our bleeding heart.

3 Whom thyself hast planted there,
From our bleeding heart to tear,
This, most sensibly we feel,
This we own impossible.

4 Dearest of thy gifts below,
Nature cannot let her go,
Nature, ’till by grace subdued,
Will not give her back to God.

5 But we would receive the power
Every blessing to restore,
Would to thy decision bow,
Would be meekly willing now.

6 If thou wilt thine own revoke,
Now inflict the sudden stroke,
Take our eyes’ and heart’s desire,
Let her in thine arms expire.

7 Stripped of all, we trust in thee,
As our day our strength shall be,
Jesus, Lord, we come to prove
All the virtue of thy love.

8 When the creature-streams are dry,
Thou thyself our wants supply,
Thou of life the fountain art,
Rise eternal in our heart.

[82.]
Another [Oblation of a Sick Friend].

1 Lover, friend of humankind,
Call thy days of flesh to mind,
When thou didst our sorrows bear,
All our sinless frailties share.

2 When thou didst converse below,
Every shape of human woe,
Every supplicant in pain
Could thy ready help obtain.

3 Melted by thy creature’s tears,
Troubled with our griefs and fears,
Pity made thy Spirit groan,
Made our miseries thine own.

4 None applied in vain to thee,
Thy divine philanthropy
Cheered the faint, the hungry fed,
Healed the sick, and raised the dead.

5 Hear us then, thou Man of Grief,
O make haste to our relief,
After thee for help we cry,
Come, before our sister die.

6 Jesus, evermore the same,
Manifest thy saving name,
Good Physician from above,
Heal the object of thy love.

7 Humbly prostrate at thy feet,
We our will to thine submit;
Yet, before thy will is shown,
Trembling we present our own.

8 ’Till thy love’s design we see,
Earnest, but resigned to thee,
Suffer us for life to pray,
Bless us with her longer stay.
9 Let the balm be now applied,
Touch her, and the fever chide,
Now command it to depart,
Sprinkle now her peaceful heart.

10 Thou with equal ease and skill
Canst the soul and body heal:
Raise her, Lord, the vessel raise
Of thine all-sufficient grace.

11 Let her long a witness live
That thou canst on earth forgive,
Live, thine utmost love to see,
Live to serve thy church and thee.

12 Then, when all her work is done,
Thou thy faithful servant crown,
Take her, Jesus, to thy breast,
Take us all to endless rest.

[83.]

For One Visited with Sickness.

1 O thou, whose wise paternal love
Hath brought my active vigour down,
Thy choice I thankfully approve,
And prostrate at thy gracious throne,
I offer up my life’s remains,
I choose the state my God ordains.

2 Cast as a broken vessel by,
Thy will I can no longer do,
Yet while a daily death I die,
Thy power I may in weakness show,
My patience may thy glory raise,
My speechless woe proclaim thy praise.

3 But since without thy Spirit’s might Thou know’st I nothing can endure,
The help I ask in Jesus’ right,
The strength he did for me procure,
Father, abundantly impart,
And arm with love my feeble heart.

4 This single good I humbly crave,
   This single good on me bestow,
And when my one desire I have,
   Let every other blessing go!
Ah, do not, Lord, my suit deny,
I only want to love—and die.

5 Or let me live, of love possessed,
   In weakness, weariness, and pain;
The anguish of my labouring breast,
   The daily cross I still sustain,
For him that languished on the tree,
But lived, before he died, for me.

1 Welcome incurable disease,
   Whate’er my gracious God decrees
      My happy choice I make,
Death’s sentence in myself receive,
   Since God a Man of Griefs did live,
      And suffer for my sake.

2 The love which brought him from the skies,
   Which made his soul a sacrifice
      Visits me in this pain,
He bids me taste his passion’s cup,
   And fill his mournful measure up,
      That I with him may reign.

3 Not that the sufferings I endure
   His Father’s favour can procure,
      Or for my sins atone:
Jesus alone the wine-press trod,
   Answered the just demands of God,
      And paid my debt alone.
4 Nor can my utmost griefs or pains
Purge out th’ original remains,
Or kill the root of sin:
That blood which did my pardon buy,
That only blood must sanctify,
And wash my nature clean.

5 Yes, O thou all-redeeming Lamb,
The virtue of thy balmy name
Restores my inward peace,
Thy death doth all my guilt remove,
Thy life shall fill my heart with love
And perfect holiness.

6 Faith in thy powerful love I have,
Thou wilt the helpless sinner save
Who fain to thee would go:
Thou dost from time to time reprieve,
’Till I my pardon sealed receive,
And all thy fulness know.

7 I own thy kind design on me,
The meaning of thy patience see;
Thou hast my manners borne,
That saved, before I hence depart,
Lowly, and meek, and pure in heart,
I may to God return.

8 Accomplish then thy gracious end,
And bid my happy soul ascend
In holiness complete,
The meanest of that heavenly throng
Who sing thine own eternal song,
And triumph at thy feet.

[85.]
For the Morning.

1 Giver of every good,
To praise thy love I wake,
Thy love the balmy sleep bestowed
For my Redeemer’s sake;
Thy love kept off the pain
That oft invades my breast,
And bids my soul aspire again
To its eternal rest.

To thee in Christ my peace
Again I humbly turn,
My past ingratitude confess,
My life of folly mourn;
A life how dark and void!
A long-continued blot!
Talents or hid, or misemployed,
And benefits forgot.

My virtues false and vain,
My justest works unjust,
Not one but gives my conscience pain,
And lays me in the dust:
But worse than all I find
The bitter root within,
The beastly heart, the devilish mind,
The hell of inbred sin.

Far from myself to thee,
Thou sinner’s friend, I fly,
Forced out by my own misery
To seek salvation nigh:
Th’ infallible relief
Assured at last to prove,
And lose my depths of sin and grief
In thy abyss of love.

One thing I now desire,
While for thy love I stay,
One blessing instantly require,
And will not be said nay;
To genuine holiness
'Till thou my soul restore,
Give joy or grief, give pain or ease,
But bid me sin no more.

[86.]

1 And let this gross corporeal clay
   Clog the pure, ethereal ray,
   And weigh my spirit down,
My spirit shall superior rise,
If Jesus shows me from the skies
   That everlasting crown.

2 Sick, and in pain, why should I grieve?
   “Troubled heart in me believe,
   And heaven, he saith, is thine:”
He went before, that all who mourn
Might triumph in his swift return,
   And see the face divine.

3 Fulness of joy his presence gives,
   Heaven its heavenliness receives,
   When him unveiled we see:
Of all our bliss the fount and root,
The tree, the blossom, and the fruit
   Is immortality.

4 My immortality thou art,
   Glorious earnest in my heart,
   Jesus, to me be given:
Of thee possessed, I ask no more,
But happy in thy love adore
   The joy of earth and heaven.

87.

1 O thou, whose kind compassion
   Hath lengthened out my day,
To see thy great salvation
   Still in the flesh I stay:
Thyself the cause unfoldest
Of all thy patient grace,
My soul in life thou holdest,
That I may see thy face.

2 For this, as tottering over
The grave I feebly stand,
'Till thou thyself discover,
And bring me safe to land;
I live, though daily dying,
And languish for that peace,
And wait that blood's applying
Which signs my soul's release.

3 My God, thou wilt not leave me,
When strength and friends depart,
But graciously forgive me,
And seal it on my heart
In joy beyond expressing
In comforts from above,
In every gospel blessing,
In all the life of love.

4 Come then my consolation,
My life beyond the grave,
And show me thy salvation,
And by thy presence save:
In faith's most strict embraces
O might I compass thee,
And then in heavenly places
Thy face forever see.

88.

1 Of a dejected spirit
I want the sovereign cure,
The all-atoning merit
Which makes salvation sure:
In secret meditation
   On an expiring God,
I wait the application
   Of Jesus’ balmy blood.

2 What but my faithful thinking
   On him who stained the tree,
Can prop my nature sinking
   In its own misery?
What but the sacred fountain
   Which purged a world of sin,
Can move this guilty mountain,
   And give me peace within?

3 When sick of sin I languish,
   My plague incurable,
My wounded spirit’s anguish
   Will men or angels heal?
So desperate my condition,
   I only can confide
In that divine physician
   Who for his patients died.

4 His death the sinner raises
   With his own love revealed,
My mouth is filled with praises,
   My heart with joy is filled;
A blessed man forgiven,
   A saved, regenerate soul,
I go in peace to heaven,
   When faith hath made me whole.

89.

1 No more amused by earthly things,
   Or worldly vanity,
Father, my troubled spirit brings
   Its last distress to thee:
Spare me, a little longer spare,
In feeble age I cry,
Thou God, who hearest the faintest prayer,
And all my sins pass by.

2 For this alone I wish to live,
That I thy love may feel,
Thy power a sinner to forgive,
And all my sickness heal;
To live, 'till I my strength regain
Original, divine,
Thy favour forfeited obtain,
And in thine image shine.

3 This only blessing I implore,
The gift unspeakable,
The Spirit of life and health and power,
The witness, pledge, and seal:
Nought differing from a servant I,
'Till thou thy Spirit impart,
And hear him Abba Father cry
In my poor broken heart.

4 Him as a Spirit of binding fear
Thou hast on me bestowed,
Sure token of redemption near
With Jesus' sprinkled blood:
The blessed hope lifts up my head,
While in thy Spirit I groan,
And call out of the deep, and plead
The passion of thy Son.

5 What Jesus' blood for me did buy
May I not humbly claim?
Thou canst not, Lord, my suit deny
Who ask in Jesus' name:
I ask what he hath made my right,
A pardon full and free:
And if thou dost in him delight,
Thou art well-pleased with me.
6 Me, me for his dear sake alone
   Into thine arms receive,
And let me feel the peace unknown,
   And consciously believe;
By holy confidence divine
   Made ready to depart,
I then my spotless soul resign,
   And see thee as thou art.

90.

1 Let the redeemed give thanks and praise
   To a forgiving God:
My feeble voice I cannot raise,
   'Till washed in Jesus’ blood;
'Till at thy coming from above
   My mountain-sins depart,
And fear gives place to filial love,
   And peace o’erflows my heart.

2 The peace which man can ne’er conceive,
   The love and joy unknown,
Wilt thou not to thy servant give,
   And claim me for thy own;
My God in Jesus pacified
   My God thyself declare,
And draw me to his open side,
   And plunge the sinner there?

3 Prisoner of hope I still attend
   Th’ appearance of my Lord,
These endless doubts and sins to end,
   And speak my soul restored,
Restored by reconciling grace,
   With present pardon blest,
And fitted by true holiness
   For my eternal rest.
4 Yet ah! My troubled spirit knows
Its own infirmities;
'Till God on me his Son bestows,
I cannot die in peace:
A stranger to th’ atoning God
Who did our world redeem,
Unless he wash me in his blood,
I have no part with him.

5 But wilt thou not the balm apply,
The purchased blessing give?
Thou didst for every sinner die,
That all mankind may live;
That I thy pardoning love may taste,
May live on earth forgiven,
And in thy mercy’s arms embraced
Return with thee to heaven.

91.

1 God of my life preserved by grace
Like Moses’s bush amidst the fire,
Teach me to count aright my days,
With wisdom pure my heart inspire,
That busied with the one concern,
I may my remnant life employ
Thy meek humility to learn,
And enter thy celestial joy.

2 In number as my days decrease,
In value, Lord, I know, they rise,
And every moment makes them less,
And brings me nearer to the skies,
If taught my talents to improve,
My hours I on account receive,
And live to win thy precious love,
And only for thy glory live.
3 Thy Spirit now if thou infuse,
   My latter end I wisely weigh,
No more th’ important moments lose,
   No more neglect to watch and pray:
Stirred up to seek the God unknown
   My soul awakes to righteousness,
And strives, and pants, and wrestles on
   For power to live and die in peace.

4 This instant now I cease from sin,
   This instant now I turn to thee,
And trust thy blood to make me clean
   From all, from all impurity:
The current of thy powerful blood
   Shall all my mountain-sins remove,
Wash off, wash out my nature’s load,
   And waft me to the port above.

1 Most sensibly declining,
   Born to resign my breath,
Why should I live repining
   At the approach of death?
In peevish lamentation
   For life I cannot cry,
Appointed to salvation,
   And joys that never die.

2 O were that point secured,
   My sorrows all would cease,
O were my soul assured
   Of everlasting peace.
Saviour, I want the witness
   Of my felicity,
And languish for that meetness
   To share a throne with thee.

3 Thy Spirit’s attestation
   Added, O God, to mine,
Must be the confirmation
    That I am truly thine:
With faith and love inspire
    Thy Spirit into my heart,
And let the sanctifier
    Dispose me to depart.

4 Thy manifested favour
    Better than life I feel,
When conscious that my Saviour
    Doth in his servant dwell:
The rapturous sensation
    Restores my paradise,
Prepares for my translation,
    And wafts me to the skies.

5 Come then my hope of glory,
    My unprecarious peace,
My joy untransitory,
    My perfect righteousness,
The kingdom of thy Spirit
    Establish, Lord, in me,
And take me up t’ inherit
    My heaven of heavens in thee.

93.

1 Weary of this daily dying,
    Crushed with my own misery,
Lord, thou hear’st thy creature crying
    After real life in thee:
Friend of helpless sinners, ease me
    By thy last distressful cries,
By thy mortal pangs release me
    From the death that never dies.

2 Guilt my troubled spirit harrows,
    Gives to death his dread array,
Points his sting, and wings his arrows,
    Arms him with his power to slay:
Only thy tremendous passion
Can my fears and sins control,
Save from endless condemnation,
Pacify my ransomed soul.

3 O might that revealing Spirit
Take of thine and show to me,
Show thy all-redeeming merit,
Thy eternal deity,
While beneath my burden groaning
I my unbelief confess,
Show my heart the blood atoning,
Bid me then depart in peace.

94.

1 With sin and grief beginning,
Must I with sorrow end
A wretched life, and sinning
Into the grave descend?
Will mercy’s arms receive me,
When all my woes are past?
Or God refuse to give me
Pardon and peace at last!

2 No longer I endeavour
Myself to justify,
Convinced my Maker’s favour
I cannot, cannot buy:
No deeds or tempers virtuous
Have I wherein to trust:
If love will lose his purchase,
I am forever lost.

3 But is there no salvation
For sinners lost as me?
But is there no compassion
In him who stained the tree?
Jesus, thou cam’st from heaven,
    And poured’st out all thy blood,
That I might die forgiven,
    Might share the throne of God.

4 Soon as thy passion tells me
    Hope in my end there is,
Soon as thy Spirit seals me
    An heir of endless bliss,
The kingdom to inherit,
    I would with joy resign
My disembodied spirit
    Into the hands divine.

95.

1 Bending beneath the burden
    Of sinful misery,
I wait to feel the pardon
    Thy blood procur’d for me:
Giver of life unceasing
    Thine aged servant own,
And bless me with the blessing
    The heaven on earth begun.

2 Death I no more desire
    By countless woes oppressed;
Do thou my soul require,
    Whene’er thou know’st it best:
Sooner, O God, or later
    My soul from earth remove,
But first impart thy nature,
    And change me into love.

96.

1 Father, thy gracious warning
    I thankfully receive,
And to thy arms returning
    Prepare with thee to live:
Thy prisoner to unshackle
   Soon as the angels come,
I quit this tabernacle
   For my celestial home.

2 What is that preparation
   For fellowship with thee,
For final full salvation,
   But faith and purity,
The dire handwriting blotted,
   The peace and life of God,
The holiness unspotted
   Which comes with Jesus’ blood!

3 Its virtue sanctifying
   O might I th’roughly know,
And on his death relying
   To life eternal go!
Father send forth his Spirit
   Into my hallowed heart,
And meet thy throne t’ inherit,
   Meet am I to depart.

4 My head with Jesus bending,
   On his great sacrifice
I rest my soul, ascending
   To joy that never dies,
With Jesus’ resignation
   With Jesus’ perfect love
I finish my oblation,
   And take my seat above.

97.
Prayers for a Sick Child.

1 Righteous, O God, are all thy ways!
   A sinful still-afflicted man
The cause I mournfully confess,
   And bleeding with another’s pain,
And justly punished in my son,
I cry—thy awful will be done!

2 The cause in its effect I find,
   My sin in its chastisement read:
   Thy judgments bring my sin to mind,
       And guilty of his death I plead,
   If justice now demand its prey,
   And thou art come my son to slay.

3 Less than thy least of mercies, I
   Have mercies numberless abused,
   Worthy a thousand deaths to die
       Who life, eternal life refused,
   Provoked by vile idolatry,
   And loved thy creature more than thee.

4 Wherefore thy righteousness I own,
   If thou the forfeiture require,
   If now I hear his latest groan,
       And while I see my child expire,
   The sorrow break my aching heart,
   The sight my soul and body part.

5 Yet spare him—for his only sake
   Who never sinned against thy love,
   And from the gates of death bring back
       In honour of my friend above
   Who offers up the sinner’s prayer,
   Whose blood beseeches thee to spare.

6 God of unfathomable grace,
   Whom now I in the dust adore,
   Omnipotent the dead to raise,
       Display the wonders of thy power,
   And kindly give me back my son,
   T’ exalt, and glorify thine own.
Thou God who hear'st the prayer
Of supplicants distressed,
With pity mark the care
In a sad parent’s breast:
I cannot, Lord, dissemble;
But all my weakness own:
Thou know’st for whom I tremble,—
My son, my only son!

Thou gav’st on this condition,
That I should ready be
To bow with meek submission,
And yield him back to thee:
To all thy dispensations
I would, I would submit,
And weep with humble patience,
And tremble at thy feet.

I must, I do restore,
If thou revoke thy loan,
And silently adore,
Or sigh, thy will be done:
To thee his great Creator,
I with my Isaac part:
But O, thou know’st my nature,
Thou read’st a father’s heart.

My bowels of compassion
Thou dost vouchsafe to feel,
With vehement deprecation
While nature’s wish I tell;
Ah, do not yet receive him
To that celestial choir,
But hasten to relieve him,
Before my son expire.

This sorrowful petition
Obtained thy gracious ear,

20 This hymn was written concerning Charles and Sarah Wesley’s first child, John, born in August 1752. He died 7 January 1754. A manuscript version of the first half is present in MS Travail, 13.
When our divine physician
    Thou didst on earth appear:
And still I sue for favour,
    And still invoke thy name,
Jesus, my present Saviour,
    Eternally the same.

6  Bidden in time of trouble
    For help to call on thee,
Lord, I my suit redouble,
    'Till thy design I see:
I never will give over
    My passionate request,
'Till thou the child recover,
    Or take him to thy breast.

99.

1  Father, thy froward children spare,
    Who tempt thee by our daily prayer,
And while we say, thy will be done,
    Alas, we only mean our own.

2  Yet now permit the sad request
    Of parents for their son distressed,
Nature’s infirmity forgive,
    If still we ask that he may live.

3  Prostrate before thy mercy-seat
    We ask; but would our will submit,
Whene’er thy sovereign will remove
    The child, whom next to thee we love.

4  We would our earthly bliss resign,
    Bestowed, revoked, by grace divine,
(If called with more than life to part,)
    And tear him from our bleeding heart.

5  But O, before the fixed decree
    Bring forth, may we not cry to thee,
Our weakness and reluctance own,
And for the faith of Abraham groan?

6 We want our wishes to suspend,
On thy decisive word t' attend,
Our wishes at thy feet we lay,
And calmly weep, and humbly pray.

7 Yet shall, we Lord, our hearts disguise,
Or hide from thy all-seeing eyes?
Our hearts, 'till we thy counsel know,
Will deprecate the threatened blow.

8 Joy of our eyes, our heart's desire,
Ah, do not now our child require:
Or taking whom thy mercy gave,
Indulge us with a common grave.

9 There let our mingled ashes lie,
Where no forlorn survivors sigh,
Where none their ravished joys deplore,
And Rachel weeps her loss no more.

10 There—but we know not what to say,
Father, aright we cannot pray—
But Jesus reads the troubled breast—
O let his bowels speak the rest!

100.

1 Saviour, 'till thou declare thy will,
Thy providential mind reveal,
And charge us to submit,
May we not humbly persevere
In pleading for a life so dear,
In weeping at thy feet?

2 Foolish, and blind to what is best,
We urge, yet check our fond request,
With resignation cry,
Save him—the vessel of thy grace,
Save him—and for thy glory raise,
While at the point to die.

3 Thou didst not blame the father’s prayer,
Beseecching thee his son to spare
Just gasping out his breath:
Thy mercy hastened to his aid,
Thy love the parting spirit staid,
And rescued him from death.

4 Another in distress and pain,
Did he apply to thee in vain,
In vain for succour groan?
Thy pity felt thy creature’s grief,
Removed his helpless unbelief,
And gave him back his son.

5 Thou could’st not, Lord, thy help deny,
Regardless of a mother’s cry
For her own child oppressed:
With pleasing importunity
She wrestled, and obtained of thee
Her violent request.

6 Thy mercy evermore the same
For our afflicted child we claim
Whose dying weight we bear,
Unanswered still our suit repeat,
And cry for mercy at thy feet
In agony of prayer.

7 Thou dost not yet relief afford,
Or speak one comfortable word
In our extreme distress,
As seeming to condemn our fears,
And frown in silence at our tears,
And hide thy angry face.
8 Answer, thou suffering Son of man,
   May we not patiently complain,
   And feel our threatened loss,
   Under so huge a burden stoop,
   Or deprecate the bitter cup,
   Or faint beneath the cross?

9 Thy mild humanity divine
   Shall help us meekly to resign,
   If thou resume thine own:
   We trust in that tremendous hour,
   To say, through love’s almighty power,
   Thy sovereign will be done.

10 But if our cry hath reached thy heart,
   If still the Man of Griefs thou art,
   The friend of misery,
   Thou wilt restore our heart’s desire,
   With strength to give him back entire
   A sacrifice to thee.

101.

1 Love divine, th’ afflicted see,
   Moved with our infirmity,
   Once thyself a Man of Grief,
   Hasten, Lord, to our relief.

2 Mindful of thy suffering days,
   Now as then replete with grace,
   Good Physician, bow the skies,
   Come before our infant dies.

3 Present in thy balmy power,
   Thou canst21 suddenly restore,
   By a word the dying save;
   Speak, and snatch him from the grave.

4 Touching this we both agree,
   If thy blessed will it be,

21Ori. (in both edns.), “cast”; a misprint.
Now the burning fever chide,
Turn the dart of death aside.

5 If thou dost our sorrows share,
Children in thy bosom bear,
Help an innocent oppressed,
Give to thy beloved rest.

6 While we yet invoke thy name,
Quench the life-devouring flame;
While we a sad vigil keep,
Grant him in thy arms to sleep.

7 Thou his feebleness sustain,
Pity, and assuage his pain,
Thou whose tender mercies are Kinder than a father’s care.

8 List’ning to his plaintive moan,
Make his every grief thine own,
Thou whose yearning bowels move
Softer than a mother’s love.

9 Need we then prescribe to thee
Clothed with our humanity,
Succour with impatience crave,
Urge salvation’s self to save?

10 No: we have our suit made known
Now let all thy will be done:
Do whate’er thy Spirit requests,
Do whate’er thy heart suggests.

102.
Thanksgiving for His Recovery.

1 Who is so great a God as ours,
So near with his redeeming powers,
So ready at his creature’s cry
To send deliverance from the sky,
To turn aside the ills we dread,
And all our largest hopes exceed!

Thou dost, in answer to our prayer,
A death-devoted victim spare:
Thou hast not, Lord, in wrath removed
A child too tenderly belov’d,
But still thine eye with pity sees
His parents’ life wrapped up in his.

Thy pity heard our softest tears,
And scattered all our griefs and fears,
The means thy mercy sanctified,
The balmy help thy love supplied,
And gives our joyful hearts to own
Thou dost the work, and thou alone.

Our Isaac on the altar laid
Receiving back as from the dead,
We offer up at mercy’s shrine
A living sacrifice divine:
And let him live to health restored,
The servant of his quick’ning Lord.

Saviour, inspire him with thy grace
From now to run the Christian race,
From now to seek the things above,
And pant for his Redeemer’s love,
’Till thou the heavenly bliss impart,
And spread thy kingdom through his heart.

Long may he live to serve thy will
With humble persevering zeal,
To recompense our tenderest tears,
The stay of our declining years,
And close his happy parents’ eyes,
And trace us then to paradise.
103.
Another [Thanksgiving for His Recovery].

1 Jesus our refuge in distress,
   Our helper hitherto,
   We now with joyful hearts confess
     That thou art good and true:
   Through importunity of prayer
     We have the blessing won,
   And thee in songs of praise declare
     The healer of our son.

2 Thou didst in tender mercy look
   On our fond heart’s desire:
   The fever, checked by thy rebuke,
     Did at thy touch retire:
   The glory, Lord, to thee alone,
     Not to the means we give:
   Thyself the saving work hast done,
     And by thy love we live.

3 The living, they thy love shall praise,
   The living, they shall sing
   The God and giver of all grace,
     Our Saviour, friend, and King:
   Our Isaac too to health restored
     Shall the thanksgiving join,
   And live to magnify his Lord
     His ransomer divine.

4 O that thou would’st thy power exert,
   The gracious wonder do,
   Put the new song into his heart,
     The song forever new!
   Now let thy brooding Spirit move
     On his awakening soul,
   Infuse the principle of love,
     And make the sinner whole.
5 Better than life thy favour is:
Be it on him bestowed:
We only asked his life for this,
That he may live for God,
Wholly devoted to thy will,
May run his Christian race,
And all his work on earth fulfil,
And then behold thy face.

104.
For a Sick Child Relapsed.

1 To whom should I in grief complain,
   To whom for help in trouble fly?
Nature hath took th’ alarm again,
   Touched is the apple of mine eye,
His danger with my fears return,
   And stricken in the child I mourn.

2 Thou God of unexhausted grace,
   Thou Father of compassions hear,
And while I humbly seek thy face,
   Thyself in my behalf appear,
Forgive the sin thy pity sees,
   Forgive, and bid me go in peace.

3 Why should my falt’ring tongue disown
   The weakness of my fluttering heart?
Thou read’st it in the stifled groan,
   The fond regret, the lingering smart,
My fears and flowing sorrows tell
   I loved the child, alas, too well!

4 Child of my age so late bestowed,
   So lovely in a father’s sight,
So kindly promising for God,
   My comfort, joy, and whole delight:
For him I seemed to live in pain,
   And tracked my steps to earth again.
5 My sin reluctant I confess;
   But how shall I my sin forsake,
Put off a father’s tenderness,
   Pluck out my eyes and give him back?
I cannot yield my son to thee,
   ’Till thou bestow thine own on me.

105.

1 Wherewithal shall I appear
   Before the righteous Lord,
How appease the judge severe,
   Who whets his glittering sword?
For my soul’s offence t’ atone,
Shall I my body’s offspring give,
   Offering up my only son
To die, that I may live?

2 Mine alas, can never pay
   The debt I owe to God,
Turn th’ Almighty’s wrath away,
   Or quench with all his blood:
But in whom thou art well-pleased,
Father, thy Son himself hath died;
   By his death thy wrath appeased,
Thy justice satisfied.

3 Suffering in the sinner’s place,
   He purchased life for me,
Pardon, plenitude of grace,
   And all I ask from thee;
All the benefits I claim
Through him thou promisest to give;
   Lord, I ask in Jesus’ name,
My dying child may live.

4 This I ask with strong desire,
   Expecting to receive:
Do not now the soul require
   Thou dost so oft reprieve:
Kindly lengthen out his span,
And bid him rise redeemed, restored,
Rise a righteous godlike man,
An image of his Lord.

106.
For Sleep.

1 Sleep that soothingly restores
Weary nature’s wasted powers,
Gift of an indulgent God
Be it on our child bestowed.

2 Jesus, Lord, we cry to thee
Friend of helpless infancy,
Now the sufferer’s grief suspend,
Now the balmy blessing send.

3 In the arms of faith and prayer
Whom to thee we humbly bear,
Safe in thy protection keep,
Let him on thy bosom sleep.

4 Touched thyself with human pain
Sympathizing Son of man,
Ease the anguish of his breast,
Lull him in thy arms to rest.

5 Object of thy dearest love
Hide his precious life above,
Precious in the sight of God,
Dearly bought with all thy blood.

6 Him we to thy grace commend,
Confident thou wilt defend,
’Till the answered prayer is sealed,
’Till the child of faith is healed.
107.
On His Recovery.

1 Saviour, thou hast deliverance sent,
   Thou hast a little longer lent
   Whom I received from thee,
   I see thy healing work begun,
   My age’s prop, my only son
   Restored to life I see.

2 With thankful heart I ask for more,
   Go on to manifest thy power,
   Thy mercy’s full design,
   Strength to the faint and feeble give,
   And let him for thy glory live,
   In soul and body thine.

3 Why would my prayer detain him here,
   But that he may with lowly fear
   Grow up to serve his Lord,
   A witness for his Saviour rise,
   Proclaim thy kingdom from the skies,
   And minister thy word?

4 But shall my will prescribe to thee?
   Or is thine absolute decree
   Inclined by human prayer?
   Thy works are all to thee foreknown,
   Thy will, thy sovereign will alone
   Elects a minister.

5 Yet as thy own command requires,
   I tell thee all my heart’s desires,
   For him thy grace implore;
   Let Ishmael in thy presence live,
   Isaac’s inheritance receive,
   And Abraham’s God adore.
6 On Sion’s walls the watchman place,
The free dispenser of thy grace,
   The steward wise and good,
(If now thou hear’st thy Spirit’s cry)
Thee let him rise to testify,
   And pardon in thy blood.

7 Thou know’st thy pleading Spirit’s will
In my accomplished wish fulfil
   Thy own supreme design;
My son into thy service take,
   Fit for his Master’s use, and make
An instrument divine.

8 When I from all my labours rest,
Be mindful, Lord, of this request,
   For my surviving son:
Into thy mercy’s arms I cast,
   And trust thy love to hold him fast,
’Till all his work is done.

108.

1 O might he live before thee
   My well-beloved son,
With tender fear adore thee
   His God while yet unknown!
Thine eye of mercy guide him
   Into the land of rest,
And let no ill betide him
   By his Creator blest.

2 That from his kind Creator
   He never may depart,
Keep in the state of nature
   His inexperienced heart,
Unconquered by temptation,
   By Satan unbeguiled,
From each alluring passion
   Preserve my giddy child.
3 The unsuspicious stranger
   To our malignant race
   From every hidden danger
   Deliver by thy grace,
   From popular infection,
   From every great offence
   Thy love be the protection
   Of thoughtless innocence.

4 Prevent, restrain, attend him
   Through a wide world of ill,
   'Till thou call forth and send him
   To do thy blessed will,
   By thy predestination
   The heavenly seed to sow,
   And minister salvation,
   And serve thy saints below.

109.
Hymn for a Child on His Birthday.

1 Great author of my being,
   Thankful I bow before thee,
   Thine own I am
   From whom I came,
   And all my powers adore thee:
   I triumph in existence,
   Enjoy my Maker’s favour,
   Created I
   To glorify,
   And love my God forever.

2 While all that breathe acknowledge
   Their merciful Creator,
   O God of grace
   Accept the praise
   Of universal nature:

---

\(^{22}\text{Ori. (in both edns.), “Tankful”; a misprint.}\)
And let us with our Father
Adore the Son and Spirit,
Through whom we rise
Beyond the skies,
And heavenly joys inherit.

110.
A Father’s Prayer for His Son.

1 God of my thoughtless infancy
   My giddy youth and riper age,
Pierced with thy love, I worship thee,
   My God, my guide through every stage;
From countless sins, and griefs, and snares
   Preserved thy guardian hand I own,
And borne and saved to hoary hairs,
   Ask the same mercy for my son.

2 Not yet by the commandment slain
   O may he uncorrupted live,
His simple innocence retain,
   And dread an unknown God to grieve:
Restraint, prevented by thy love
   Give him the evil to refuse,
And feel thy drawings from above,
   And good, and life, and virtue choose.

3 When near the slippery paths of vice
   With heedless steps he runs secure,
Preserve the favorite of the skies,
   And keep his life and conscience pure:
Shorten his time for childish play,
   From youthful lusts and passions screen,
Nor leave him in the wilds to stray
   Of pleasure, vanity, and sin.

4 Soon may the all-inspiring Dove
   With brooding wings his soul o’erspread;
The hidden principle of love
   The pure, incorruptible seed
Hasten into his heart to sow;
   And when the word of power takes place,
Let every blossom knit and grow,
   And ripen into perfect grace.

111.
On Going to a New Habitation.

1  Weary, why should I farther go,
   Or seek a resting-place below
       With vain anxiety?
Without the presence of my Lord,
   This earth can no repose afford,
       Or glimpse of joy for me.

2  Weeping where'er mine eye I turn,
   Fresh cause to weep, lament, and mourn
       Mine eye with horror sees;
Nothing but sin and pain appears
   In all the dreary vale of tears
       The frightful wilderness.

3  My paradise is lost and gone,
   Distressed, disconsolate, alone,
       A banished man I rove,
I faint beneath my nature's load,
   An alien from the life of God,
       A stranger to his love.

4  What then is change of place to me?
   The end of sin and misery,
       In every place is nigh;
No spot of earth but yields a grave:
   Where'er he wills, if Jesus save,
       I lay me down and die.
112.

1  O that I first of love possessed,
   With my Redeemer’s presence blest,
    Might his salvation see!
   Before thou dost my soul require,
   Allow me, Lord, my heart’s desire,
    And show thyself to me.

2  Appear my sanctuary from sin,
   Open thine arms to take me in,
    By thy own presence hide,
   Hide in the place where Moses stood,
   And show me now the face of God,
    My Father pacified.

3  What but thy manifested grace
   Can guilt, and fear, and sorrow chase,
    The cause of grief destroy?
   Thy mercy brings salvation sure,
   Makes all my heart and nature pure,
    And fills with hallowed joy.

4  Come quickly, Lord, the veil remove,
   Pass as a God of pardoning love
    Before my ravished eyes:
   And when I in thy person see
   Jehovah’s glorious majesty,
    I find my paradise.

5  Then, then my wandering toil is o’er,
   Restless I sigh and pine no more
    For local happiness;
   Confident in thy blood applied,
   Mine inmost soul is satisfied
    With everlasting peace.
6 Then, then where’er thy will below
Assign my lot, with thee I go
An happy man forgiven:
I know my God is reconciled,
Regain my Eden in the wild,
And glide from earth to heaven.

113.

1 The Son of man supplies
  My every outward need
Who had not, when he left the skies,
  A place to lay his head:
He will provide my place,
  And in due season show
Where I shall pass my few sad days
  Of pilgrimage below.

2 No matter where or how
  I in this desert live,
If, when my dying head I bow,
  Jesus my soul receive:
Blest with thy precious love,
  Saviour, 'tis all my care
To reach the purchased house above,
  And find a mansion there.

3 An house with hands not made
  Hast thou not bought for me?
The full stupendous price was paid
  In blood on yonder tree!
But ere thou call me hence,
  Lord, with thyself impart
The pledge of mine inheritance,
  And fill my loving heart.

4 An heir of endless bliss
  Now in a tent I dwell,
Till thou my spotless soul dismiss
   To joys unspeakable,
'Till thou in that glad day
Make all thy glories known,
And to the heavenly house convey,
And bid me share thy throne.

114.

1  Jesus, my faithful guide,
   For thy advice I stay,
Who wilt not let me wander wide
   Of thy appointed way:
'Till thou reveal thy will,
In calm uncertainty
I know not what to do, but still
   Mine eyes are fixed on thee.

2  'Till thou direction send,
   Delightfully resigned
I mark the openings, and attend
   The tokens of thy mind;
What thou wouldst have me do
   By plainest signs to prove
I wait; and step by step pursue
   The leadings of thy love.

3  Saviour, I would not take
   One step in life, alone,
Or dare the smallest motion make
   Without thy counsel known:
Thee I my Lord confess,
   In every thing I see,
And thou by thine unerring grace
   Shalt order all for me.

4  Surely thou wilt provide
   The place thou know’st I need,
The solitary place to hide
   Thy hoary servant’s head;
Where a few moments more
Expecting my release,
I may my father’s God adore,
And then depart in peace.

115.

1 What matters it to me,
When a few days are past,
Where I shall end my misery,
Where I shall breathe my last?
The meanest house or cot
The hoary hairs may screen
Of one who would be clean forgot,
And live and die unseen.

2 Exposed I long have been
In this bleak vale of tears,
Midst scenes of vanity and sin
Consumed my threescore years:
I turn my face aside,
Sick of beholding more,
And wish the latest storm t’ outride,
And reach the happy shore.

3 As dead already here,
Without desire or hope,
’Till from this earth I disappear,
I give the creature up,
In temporal despair
Contentedly abide,
And in my flesh the tokens bear
Of Jesus crucified.

4 A prisoner of the Lord,
Where he appoints I wait,
In age to be renewed, restored
To my unsinning state,
My only want I feel
Jesus my peace to know,
In him to live, in him to dwell,
And die to all below.

5 Jesus, my hope, my rest,
This load of sin remove,
Thy name, thy nature manifest
In purity and love:
And when in knowing thee
The heavenly life I live,
Set my imprisoned spirit free,
And to thyself receive.

1 Giver of every useful gift,
My thankful heart to thee I lift,
Who hast a cottage given
To lodge a poor wayfaring man,
'Till I my long-sought country gain,
And find my house in heaven.

2 Indulged with an obscure retreat,
Ah, never leave me to forget
That this is not my home;
A sojourner and stranger still,
I suffer and perform thy will,
'Till my Redeemer come.

3 I seek not my repose below,
If, long a man of strife and woe,
I to the desert fly:
If thou a moment’s respite give,
Thou know’st, I come not here to live,
I only come to die.

4 Author of godly sorrow, meet,
And suffer me to kiss thy feet,
And bathe them with my tears,

---

23 A manuscript version of this hymn appears in shorthand on the back cover of MS Six. The few variants are noted here.
24 Shorthand version reads “Redemption.”
25 Shorthand version substitutes “But” for “I.”
My sins, though pardoned, to bewail,
'Till thou release me from the vale,
And life in death appears.

5 The broken, contrite spirit give,
And lo, I come to weep and grieve,
And long for my remove,
I gasp to breathe my native air,
When once enabled to declare
Thou know'st that thee I love.

6 Ah, take me, Saviour, at my word,
Pronounce me now to peace restored
To purity of heart,
Snatch from this\textsuperscript{26} soothing solitude
My soul in spotless love renewed,
And bid\textsuperscript{27} me now depart.

117.
For a Woman in the Beginning of Her Travail.

1 Jesus, the woman's conquering seed,
Who didst our world of sorrows bear,
Stand by me in my greatest need,
And now accept my plaintive prayer:
The painful curse entailed by Eve
On me, on all the weaker kind,
O may I patiently receive,
And turned into a blessing find.

2 Thou hast redeemed in troubles past
A soul that did on thee rely;
And still I hold the promise fast,
And still expect salvation nigh:
I trust, that as my pangs increase,
Thou wilt my fainting spirit revive,
And nearest in my last distress
Thy most abundant comforts give.

\textsuperscript{26}Shorthand version substitutes “my” for “this.”

\textsuperscript{27}Shorthand version substitutes “let” for “bid.”
3 O'erwhelmed at times with chilling fears,
   Thou dost not leave me without hope;
   Thy secret power and presence cheers
   And lifts my sinking nature up:
   Again thy gracious strength I own
   Displayed in man’s infirmity:
   And never did thy Spirit groan
   For help in one so weak as me!

118.
For the Same in Travail.

1 Jesus, Son of Mary, hear
   Our help-imploring cry,
   Lord of life and death, appear
   With thy salvation nigh;
   God of grace and boundless power,
   And never-failing faithfulness,
   Bring her through the tort’ring hour,
   And bid her live in peace.

2 Caught as in the toils of hell,
   Thine own with pity see:
   Nature’s strength and spirits fail
   If unrenewed by thee:
   Ere the grisly king devour,
   Our refuge in extreme distress,
   Bring her through the tort’ring hour,
   And bid her live in peace.

3 By the travail of thy soul,
   Thy more than mortal pain,
   All her fears of death control,
   Her fainting heart sustain:
   Streams of consolation shower
   On one thy love delights to bless;
   Bring her through the tort’ring hour,
   And bid her live in peace.
4 Bid her live in peace divine,
In holiness and love,
Witnessing that power of thine
Which hides her life above:
Speak the direful conflict o’er,
Thou God whose mercies never cease,
Now conclude the tort’ring hour,
And bid her live in peace.

119.
After Her Delivery.

1 Thee faithful and true
O Jesus, we praise,
Omnipotent too,
And plenteous in grace:
Of life the kind giver
Thy goodness we prove,
Which loves to deliver
Who hang on thy love.

2 Brought through the dread hour
And torturing fires,
The proof of thy power
And mercy respires,
The promise declaring
Thy truth she receives,
And saved in childbearing
Thy confessor lives.

3 She lives to extol
Thy wonderful name,
And invoke all
Her Lord to proclaim,
To sing of her Saviour
And lover divine,
And rest in thy favor
Eternally thine.
120.
Another [After Her Delivery].

1  Thee our strength and righteousness,
   Jesus, we with joy confess:
   Mighty to redeem from death,
   Thou hast spread thine arms beneath,
   Kept her, till the hour was past,
   Scarcely saved—yet saved at last.

2  Mighty to redeem from pain,
   Turn, and visit her again:
   Till thy breath again revives,
   In the shade of death she lives,
   In extreme infirmity
   Dying still for want of thee.

3  Make her, Lord, thy constant care,
   In thy loving bosom bear:
   Moved by our continued cry
   Thy balsamic blood apply,
   Nature’s sinking powers restore,
   Give her life for evermore.

4  While thou dost her soul renew,
   Quicken her frail body too,
   While she hangs in even scale,
   Let the prayer of faith prevail,
   Present in thy power to heal,
   On her heart the answer seal.

121.
Another [After Her Delivery].

1  Let the redeemed by grace
   Their kind Redeemer praise:
   Ransomed from the gaping grave
   Jesus hid my life above,
   Ready was my Lord to save
   The dear object of his love.
2 Plucked from the jaws of death,
Saviour, thy praise I breathe,
Pledge of greater mercies still
This deliverance I receive,
Live t’ experience all thy will,
Only for thy glory live.

3 Thy healing work begun
Wilt thou not carry on,
Nature’s wasted strength repair,
Clothe my flesh with vigour new,
That I may thy power declare,
Testify that thou art true?

4 But most I long to prove
The sweetness of thy love:
Filial love for servile fear
Shed it in my heart abroad;
Now as slain for me appear,
Show thyself the pard’ning God.

5 Incapable of rest
Till of thy love possessed,
Comforted I cannot be,
Till thou dost the grace bestow,
Wrestling in thy strength with thee,
Weakness will not let thee go.

6 Reserved for this alone
To know as I am known,
Come with thy salvation, Lord,
Let, my sins no longer part,
Speak the reconciling word,
Speak thyself into my heart.

122.
For a Sick Child.

1 So foolish, ignorant, and blind
To that thy wisdom hath designed,
What shall I to my Father say,
Or how for a sick infant pray?
With pain he doth his life begin,
Who never copied Adam’s sin,
Yet, innocent, in plaintive groans
Th’ original offence he owns.

May I not suffer his distress,
And ask my God his pain to ease?
Or, if it be thy gracious will,
My child in season due to heal?
May I not, till thy will appears,
Indulge these unrebellious tears,
My suit unblameable repeat,
And mourn, submissive, at thy feet?

Fountain of unexhausted love,
Forever streaming from above,
My nature’s soft infirmity
I feel, a drop derived from thee!
And wilt thou not accept thy own,
Mixed with the sorrows of thy Son,
Exalted by that sacred flood,
And offered up through Jesus’ blood!

For Jesus’ sake my son retrieve,
And bid him for thy glory live,
Live to proclaim his Saviour’s praise,
An herald of redeeming grace;
Of future good I ask a sign,
Now, Father, seal the vessel thine,
And let him serve his Lord alone,
And live, till all thy will is done.

123.
For a Sick Friend.

Jesus, omnipotent to save
Both soul and body from the grave,
Thy saving power exert,
The outcast’s hope, the sinner’s friend,
With all thy balmy grace descend
Into a broken heart.

2 Thou must admit the sinner’s plea,
And help his desperate misery
Who feels himself undone,
Who fears to lift his guilty eyes,
Or only by his silence cries
For mercy at thy throne.

3 Thy bowels melt at his distress,
Thy heart o’erflows with tenderness,
And for his sorrows bleeds,
Thy Spirit of supplicating love
One with his Advocate above
In all the members pleads.

4 Mercy we ask in Jesus’ name,
Mercy for a mere sinner claim;
Mercy and thou art one:
Nor canst thou, Lord, thyself deny,
While all the church for mercy cry,
And in thy Spirit groan.

5 Come then, his life, his strength, his peace,
The prisoner let thy blood release,
Thy blood the patient heal,
While prostrate at thy feet we pray,
Thy blood wash all his sins away,
And now his pardon seal.

6 This moment come, and touch his hand,
This moment, dearest Lord, command
The fever to depart,
This moment let our faithful prayer
Thy answer to his conscience bear,
And reach his happy heart.
124.
The Collier’s Hymn.28

1 Teacher, friend of foolish sinners,
   Take the praise of thy grace
   From us young beginners.
Struck with loving admiration
   Hear us tell of thy zeal
   For our soul’s salvation.

2 Foes to God and unforgiven
   Once we were, distant far,
   Far as hell from heaven:
But we have through thee found favour,
   Brought to God by thy blood,
   O thou precious Saviour.

3 Thou hast in the weak and feeble
   Power displayed, called and made
   Us thy favourite people:
Us the vulgar, and obscure
   Thou dost own; us unknown,
   Ignorant and poor.

4 Simple folk and undiscerning,
   Nothing we know but thee,
   Love is all our learning:
We with loving hearts adore thee,
   This our deep scholarship,
   This is all our glory.

5 Thou, we know, hast died to save us,
   We are thine, love divine,
   Thou who bought’st shall have us:
Taught and led by thy good Spirit
   We shall soon share thy throne,
   All thy joys inherit.

6 Here is knowledge rare, and hidden
   From the wise, who despise
   All our inward Eden;

28A manuscript precursor of this hymn appears in MS Richmond, 60–61.
Thou to us the truth hast given,
   We in thee, (happy we!)
Know the way to heaven.

125.
The Young Man’s Hymn.

1 How shall a young unstable man
   To evil prone like me,
His actions and his heart maintain
   From all pollution free?
Thee, Lord, that I may not forsake,
   Or ever turn aside,
Thy precepts for my rule I take,
   Thy Spirit for my guide.

2 Governed by the ingrafted word,
   And principled with grace,
I shall not yield to sin abhorred,
   Or give to passion place:
From youthful lusts I still shall flee,
   From all the paths of vice,
My omnipresent Saviour see,
   And walk before thine eyes.

3 Saviour, to me thy Spirit give,
   That through his power I may Thy word effectually believe,
   And faithfully obey;
From every great transgression pure,
   For all thy will prepared,
Thy servant to the end endure,
   And gain the full reward.

126.
The Maiden’s Hymn.

1 Holy child of heavenly birth,
   God made man, and born on earth,
Virgin’s Son, impart to me
Thy unsullied purity.

2 In my pilgrimage below
Only thee I pant to know,
Every creature I resign,
Thine, both soul and body, thine.

3 Fairer than the sons of men,
Over me thy sway maintain:
Perfect loveliness thou art,
Take my undivided heart.

4 All my heart to thee I give,
All thy holiness receive,
Live to make my Saviour known,
Live to please my God alone:

5 Free from low, distracting care,
For the happy day prepare,
For the joys that never die,
For my Bridegroom in the sky.

6 Here betrothed to thee in love
I shall see my Lord above,
Lean on my Redeemer’s breast,
In thy arms forever rest.

127.
For an Unconverted Husband.

1 Searcher of hearts, to thee I fly,
In doubly deep distress apply
For help to thee alone:
I want to feel thy pard’ning love,
I want my partner’s heart to prove
That mystic peace unknown.
2 Thy goodness formed, and turned his mind,
   Thou mad’st him generous, just, and kind;
   Yet O, incarnate God,
   Through thee escaped the gulf of vice,
   In nature’s deadly sleep he lies,
   Nor pants to feel thy blood.

3 Thou know’st, if not a foe professed,
   A stranger to thy cross, at rest
   Without thy grace he lives;
   Thoughtless of death and judgment near,
   His joy, his good, his portion here
   Contented he receives.

4 Saviour, his slumb’ring spirit call,
   Awake, upraise him from his fall,
   And show the fountain nigh:
   Ah, give him now himself to see,
   To feel his need of faith and thee,
   And then his need supply.

5 'Till he awakes I cannot rest,
   Or blest myself be singly blest,
   To him so closely joined,
   Flesh of his flesh, bone of his bone;
   Thyself of twain hast made us one
   In will, and heart, and mind.

6 O might we one become in thee,
   The great mysterious unity
   Of sacred wedlock prove,
   To Sion hand in hand repair,
   And fitted for thy presence, share
   The marriage-feast above.

128.

For a Persecuting Husband.

1 Saviour, let thy will be done,
   Calling me thy cross to bear:
Thee my heavenly Lord I own,
Cast on thee my mournful care;
By my bosom-friend distressed,
In thy sovereign will I rest.

2 Persecution for thy sake
  Strengthened by thy grace t’ endure,
No complaint to man I make;
  Find in God my refuge sure;
Confident, thy pity hears,
Counts my supplicating tears.

3 Still mine eyes for him o’erflow
  Whom thyself hast joined to me:
Partner of my weal and woe,
  Can I his destruction see?
See his soul insensible
Madly rushing down to hell?

4 Summoned to thy judgment-seat
  (Who the dreadful thought can bear!)
Must we in thy presence meet,
  Meet to part forever there?
Must he then receive his hire,
Curst into eternal fire?

5 God of love, his doom prevent,
  Lengthening out his gracious day:
Give the rebel to relent,
  Force his stubborn heart to pray:
Pray thyself that he may live:
Slay him first; and then forgive.

6 Let him now unclose his eyes,
  Turned from Satan’s power to thee,
See th’ atoning sacrifice,
  Hear the blood that pleads for me;
Pleads for both, that saved by grace
Both may see thy glorious face.
For an Unconverted Wife.

1  Restorer of the sin-sick race,
   Thy balmy power exert,
   And turn by unresisted grace
   My dear companion’s heart:
   One flesh whom thou hast made of two,
   (For thy own nature’s sake,
   In proof that thou art good and true,)
   In thee one spirit make.

2  In every hour of near access
   I bear her to the throne,
   And wrestle on, ’till thou impress
   On her thy name unknown:
   An interest if in thee I have,
   And feel thy Spirit’s life,
   O let the faithful husband save
   The unbelieving wife.

3  Instruct me, Saviour, when to yield
   With mitigated zeal,
   And when by true affection steeled
   To stand invincible:
   Armed with the meekness of my Lord,
   The wisdom from above,
   Give me to win without the word,
   And conquer her by love.

4  Thy boundless charity divine
   Into my bosom breathe,
   And gladly I my life resign,
   To save her soul from death;
   Give up my residue of days,
   That she may live forgiven,
   And run with joy the Christian race,
   And follow me to heaven.
130.
For an Undutiful Son.

1 Father of everlasting grace,
   Who hast the prodigal forgiven,
Folded me in thy kind embrace,
   And gladdened all thy house in heaven;
Again thy mercy’s depths make known,
And save my poor rebellious son.

2 Far from thy family removed,
   With eyes of soft compassion see
A soul for Jesus’ sake belov’d,
   And look the wanderer back to thee,
Incline his stubborn heart to grieve,
And, when he turns his face, forgive.

3 I cannot, Lord, of him despair,
   Hoping myself for final bliss,
Trusting in Jesus’ blood and prayer,
   That powerful Advocate of his,
That only sinless Son of thine,
Who asks eternal life for mine.

4 Faith echoes to his prayer above,
   And reaches now thy pitying ear:
The rebel shall thy mercy prove,
   Adorned in the best robe appear,
And see his heavenly Father’s face,
And feast forever on thy grace.

131.
For Unconverted Relations.

1 Jesus, I at thy throne appear,
   For those who have not known thy grace,
To me alas, by nature near,
   But far from thee and righteousness!
As dead in trespasses today,
   As I was yesterday, they rest:
But thou hast stirred me up to pray,
   And wilt accept thine own request.
2 I ask for them the life of faith,
   Who never sinned that deadly sin:
O could I snatch from second death,
   Divinely wise their souls to win;
To time my every kind advice!
   Or, if my words they will not hear,
To set my life before their eyes,
   And in thy character appear!

3 Help me to put thy bowels on,
   From proud contempt and anger free,
By meekest zeal to bear them down,
   By faith, and fervent charity:
To serve, and succour them, and tend,
   For evil benefits return,
And bear their manners to the end,
   As thou hast all my manners borne.

4 I now for their awakening stay,
   And hoping against hope abide,
To see them cast their sins away,
   And fall before the crucified:
I trust thine instrument to prove
   For saving souls redeemed by thee:
But patience first and humble love
   Must have its perfect work in me.

132.
For a Family in Want.

1 Father, who know’st the things we need,
   Before thy children cry,
Give us this day our daily bread,
   As manna from the sky.

2 By providential love bestowed
   Thy blessings we receive,
And satisfied with scanty food
   Miraculously live.
3 We live, but not by bread alone,
Without distracting care,
A life invisible, unknown,
A life of faith and prayer:

4 We on thy only word depend
Who nothing here possess,
Relieved by the unfailing friend
Of indigent distress.

5 The portion of the poor thou art,
Who thy commands obey,
And trust thou never wilt depart,
But keep us to that day;

6 When borne aloft on angels’ wings
As Lazarus we rest,
Enthroned with Jesus’ priests and kings
At heaven’s eternal feast.

133.
Before Work.

1 Come, let us anew
Our calling pursue,
Go forth with the sun,
And rejoice as a giant our circuit to run:
Whom Jesus commands
To work with our hands,
Obeying his word,
We a service perform to our heavenly Lord.

2 While we labour for him
And each moment redeem,
His service we own
Our freedom indeed, and our heaven begun:
If he give us a smile
We are paid for our toil,
If our work he approve,
’Tis a work of the Lord, and a labour of love.
3 Our wages are sure
Who his burden endure:
And we cannot complain
Of our daily delight as a wearisome pain;
The labour is o’er
And fatigues us no more
When a moment is past,
But the blessed effect shall eternally last.

134.
The Master’s Hymn.

1 Jesus, my Master in the sky,
Govern and guide me with thine eye,
And teach me to fulfil
With strict fidelity and just,
The charge committed to my trust,
And answer all thy will.

2 Not harsh, imperious, or austere,
But gentle to my servants here
I would thy word obey,
Render to each his lawful right,
And rule my house, as in thy sight,
With mild paternal sway.

3 To persons thou hast no respect:
And shall I scornfully reject
My meanest servant’s plea!
Is he not (by my Maker made,
And in the sacred balance weighed,)
As dear to God as me?

4 Brethren in our Creator’s eyes,
I dare not injure, or despise
The workmanship of God,
Who me their earthly lord confess,
Heirs of my Saviour’s righteousness,
And bought with all his blood.
5 Then let me tenderly entreat,
   And give them what is right and meet,
         As thou to me hast given;
But make their souls my chiepest care,
   Their souls as in my bosom bear,
         And train them up for heaven.

6 I would in Abraham’s footsteps go,
   Instruct my house their God to know,
         And walk in all thy ways,
Till each th’ allotted work hath done,
   And wafted to the land unknown
         Appears before thy face.

135.

1 Master supreme, I look to thee
   For grace and wisdom from above!
Vested with thy authority
   Indue me with thy patient love;
That taught, according to thy will
   To rule my family aright,
I may th’ appointed charge fulfil
   With all my heart and all my might.

2 Inferiors as a sacred trust
   I from the sovereign Lord receive,
That what is suitable and just Impartial I to each may give;
O’erlook them with a guardian’s eye
   From vice and wickedness restrain,
Mistakes or lesser faults pass by,
   And govern with a looser rein.

3 The servant faithful and discreet
   Gentle to him, and good, and mild,
Him I would tenderly entreat,
   And scarce distinguish from a child:
Yet let me not my place forsake,
Th’ occasion of his stumbling prove,
The servant to my bosom take,
And mar him by familiar love.

4 Order if some invert, confound,
Their Lord’s authority betray,
I hearken to the gospel-sound
And trace the providential way,
As far from abjectness as pride,
With condescending dignity:
Jesus, I make thy word my guide,
And keep the post assigned by thee.

5 O could I emulate the zeal
Thou dost to thy poor servants bear!
The troubles, griefs, and burdens feel
Of souls intrusted to my care,
In daily prayer to God commend
The souls whom God expired to save,
And think—how soon my sway shall end,
And all be equal in the grave!

136.

1 How shall I walk my God to please,
And spread content and happiness
O’er all beneath my care,
A pattern to my household give,
And as a guardian-angel live,
As Jesus’ minister?

2 The opposite extremes I see
Remissness and severity,
And know not how to shun
The precipice on either hand;
While in a narrow path I stand,
And dread to venture on.
3 Shall I through indolence supine
Neglect, betray my charge divine,
My delegated power?
The souls I from my Lord receive,
Of each I an account must give
At that tremendous hour.

4 A lion in my house, shall I
My tame inferiors terrify
By fierce tyrannic sway,
Despotic as an eastern prince
By regal arguments convince,
Compel them to obey?

5 Of angry man th’ impatience proud
Works not the righteousness of God,
Nor true respect begets:
Proud wrath can only wrath create,
And cringing fear and smothered hate
In slaves and hypocrites.

6 Lord over all, and God most high,
Jesu, to thee for help I cry,
For constancy of grace,
That taught by thy good Spirit and led,
I may with confidence proceed,
And all thy footsteps trace.

7 O teach me my first lesson now,
And when to thy sweet yoke I bow,
Thy easy service prove,
Lowly and meek in heart, I see
The art of governing like thee
Is governing by love.

137.

1 I and my house will serve the Lord,
But first, obedient to his word
I must myself appear,
By actions, words, and tempers show
That I my heavenly Master know,
   And serve with heart sincere.

2  I must the fair example set,
   From those who on my pleasure wait
      The stumbling-block remove;
   Their duty by my life explain,
   And still in all my works maintain
      The dignity of love.

3  Easy to be entreated, mild,
   Quickly appeased and reconciled,
      A follower of my God,
   A saint indeed I long to be,
   And lead my faithful family
      In the celestial road.

4  Lord, if thou didst the wish infuse,
   A vessel fitted for thy use
      Into thy hands receive;
   Work in me both to will, and do,
   And show them how believers true,
      And real Christians live.

5  With all-sufficient grace supply,
   And lo, I come to testify
      The wonders of thy name,
   Which saves from sin, the world, and hell,
   Whose virtue every heart may feel,
      And every tongue proclaim.

6  A sinner saved myself from sin,
   I come my relatives to win,
      To preach their sins forgiven;
   Children, and wife, and servants seize,
   And through the ways of pleasantness
      Conduct them all to heaven.
Hymn for the Head of an Unconverted Family.

1 Father of earth and heaven,
  Permit me to complain
Of those thy love to me hath given,
  Who bear thy name in vain:
As yet I cannot see
  The marks of grace divine,
Or one of all my family
  Adopted into thine.

2 Strangers or foes to God,
  Dead, dead in sin they live,
And thoughtless, with the worldly crowd,
  Their hearts to pleasure give:
The paths of gospel-peace
  Alas, they have not known,
But hate the power of godliness,
  And love themselves alone.

3 My life of faith and prayer
  As madness they condemn,
My ways so strict they cannot bear,
  So contrary to them:
My counsels they despise,
  When kindly I reprove,
And stop their ears, and shut their eyes,
  And trample on my love.

4 Day after day I mourn,
  And wait their change to see:
When wilt thou touch their hearts, and turn
  The wand’rers back to thee?
Mercy on them be showed
  In honour of thy Son;
Nor let them perish in their blood
  For whom he poured his own.
5 Father, for Jesus' sake,
Thy quick'ning Spirit breathe,
And let their precious souls awake,
Nor sleep in endless death:
My household-foes convert,
From Satan's power release,
And then permit me to depart
In everlasting peace.

139.
The Servant's Hymn.

1 Jesus, the Lord most high,
Thy poorest servant own,
And give me strength to glorify,
And serve my God alone;
Inspired with humble fear,
And principled with grace,
My earthly master to revere,
As standing in thy place.

2 Thine acceptable will (If thou the power impart)
In his I cheerfully fulfil,
And with a single heart:
Not with eye-service vain
A flattered worm to please,
But God, who knows what is in men,
And all our motives sees.

3 Whate'er for man I do,
I do as to the Lord,
From God the merciful and true
Expecting my reward:
And whether bond or free,
I know, thou wilt approve,
And crown our services to thee
With thy eternal love.
140.

1 O that I always may
   My honoured master please,
   And his paternal care repay
   With faithful services!
   My study and delight
   With warm, unwearied zeal
   To do, as in Jehovah’s sight,
   My honoured master’s will.

2 If those who know not God
   Their kind reprovers spurn,
   Or stubborn, petulant, and loud
   The answer prompt return;
   The chidings of my lord
   Let me with awe receive,
   And wounded by an hasty word
   In modest silence grieve.

3 Hardened in sordid sin,
   The basest of the throng,
   By pilfering and purloining mean
   If slaves their masters wrong;
   My constant care shall be
   My faithfulness t’ approve,
   And guard his sacred property
   Whom I revere and love.

4 Jesus, with loving fear
   My simple heart inspire,
   So shall I serve thy servant here
   For conscience, not for hire,
   In free subjection live,
   In every thing obey,
   And all my recompense receive
   At that triumphant day!
141.

1 Lord, if thou hast on me bestowed
   A master, not humane and good,
   But froward and severe,
   Assist the servant of thy will
   With grace and wisdom to fulfil
   The Christian character.

2 Trampled as dirt beneath his feet,
   O may I quietly submit
   To all his stern decrees,
   Insults and wrongs in silence bear,
   And serve with conscientious care
   Whom I can never please.

3 Under the galling iron yoke
   To thee my only help I look,
   To thee in secret groan:
   I cannot murmur or complain,
   But meekly all my griefs sustain
   For thy dear sake alone.

4 The promise stands forever sure,
   The griefs I for thy sake endure
   My crown and joy shall be:
   But all my strength of patient grace,
   And all my glorious happiness
   Is a free gift from thee.

142.

1 Why in the neighbourhood of hell,
   Saviour, am I constrained to dwell
   Who would be wholly thine,
   Subjected to a furious lord,
   Who heaven provokes at every word,
   And dares the wrath divine!

2 A witness of his frantic ways
   His drunken riotous excess,
   Am I a partner too?
Jesus, mine eyes are unto thee:
Show in this sad perplexity
What should thy servant do?

3 Must I th’ infernal language hear
Tormenting to a sober ear,
And not reprove his sin?
Words from his slaves he cannot brook
But let him meet my mournful look,
And stand condemned within.

4 Him let my blameless life reprove,
My labour of unwearied love,
My active zeal to please,
To serve his will by day and night,
As one who in a world of light
An heavenly Master sees.

5 By duteous and respectful awe
O might I his attention draw
To principles unseen!
A testimony from thy foe
Extort, that those who Jesus know
Give all their due to men.

6 Then let his wakened soul arise,
Shake off the chains of vulgar vice,
And every sin abhorred,
Till pardon makes him truly free,
And turns his heart to serve with me
Our dear redeeming Lord.

143.

1 Servant of Christ, on him I call:
The help and sure resource of all
His followers in distress;
Saviour, in my defence arise;
My soul as among lions lies,
And no deliverance sees.
2 Departing from their sinful way,
I make myself the sinner’s prey,
   Provoke the sons of night
(While good for evil I return)
To hunt me down with cruel scorn,
   And rancorous despite.

3 Thy confessor I stand alone,
My heavenly Lord and Master own
   By them alas, denied:
The alien host is always near,
Yet cannot I their outrage fear
   With Jesus on my side.

4 I cannot haughtily contemn,
Or once prefer myself to them,
   Or bitterly reprove
The slaves of open wickedness;
I differ through thy only grace,
   And freely pard’ning love.

5 Thou know’st their unrelenting hate,
Who daily for my halting wait,
   And wish my fall to see;
Strike their insidious malice blind,
Or let them no occasion find,
   Except my zeal for thee.

6 My zeal be warm, and wise, and meek:
Instruct me, Saviour, when to speak,
   And when in silence stay,
That ready to take up my cross,
I never may disgrace thy cause,
   I never may betray.

7 The gospel-pearl, the truth divine
I would not, Lord, expose to swine,
   The mysteries of grace
To men of life and lips impure,
Or tell them of my pardon sure,
And perfect holiness.

8 No: rather let my actions tell
That a poor soul redeemed from hell,
Doth his Redeemer own,
Fears a forgiving God t’ offend,
Studies to please so dear a friend,
And lives for him alone.

9 My life, a copy fair from thine,
Must in the eyes of sinners shine,
If thou thine arrows dart,
Thine old rebellious foes subdue,
Convert them into creatures new,
And reign in every heart.

10 Jesus, I will not let thee go,
Till thou to these thy mercy show,
And made the sons of God
Their dear Redeemer they proclaim,
Obtain salvation in thy name,
And pardon in thy blood.

144.

1 With a believing master blest,
   His equal in the Saviour’s eyes,
   His brother in the Lord confessed,
   Shall I neglect him, or despise?
   Forget the difference of estate,
   And scorn at his commands to bow,
   As high and low, as small and great
   Were all upon a level now!

2 Rather I would with warmer zeal
   My just fidelity approve,
   Gladly perform his utmost will,
   And love whom God is pleased to love,
Worthy of double honour deem
   The heir of joys that never end,
And serve and cordially esteem
   Whom Jesus deigns to call his friend.

3 Giver of all good gifts, on me,
   On all who bear the yoke bestow
The wisdom, and humility,
   Our station and ourselves to know,
Our masters to obey and prize;
   Lest failing in allegiance here,
We force the world with taunting cries
   To ask, Is this your godly fear!

4 If stubborn, insolent, and proud;
   We tempt ev’n heathens to exclaim,
And urge the sacrilegious crowd
   To vilify the Christian name:
The faith which such as you profess
   Must error, or imposture be,
A mere pretence for idleness,
   Or cover for hypocrisy.

5 But if the gospel we obey,
   Our will to God and man resign,
All honour to our masters pay,
   And worship only not divine;
His uncontested witnesses
   We praise the doctrine of our Lord,
Prove to their hearts the truth of grace,
   And sinners save without the word.

145.
A Parent’s Prayer.

1 O never let my children live
   The devil’s to become,
Their God by wickedness to grieve,
   Their substance to consume;
Far from thy family to rove,
   The tempter’s easy prey,
And forfeit thine eternal love,
   And cast their souls away.

Rather permit them to expire
   In life’s unclouded morn,
And join them to the virgin-choir,
   The church of the first-born:
Before thy statutes they forsake,
   Allow my just request,
And through the wounds of Jesus take
   The infants to thy breast.

My fairest prospects I forego,
   So thou with safety bless,
And ere they good or evil know,
   The innocents release:
I ask as with my parting breath,
   To each allotted be
An holy life, or early death:
   But which I leave to thee.

146.
   To be Sung at the Tea-Table.

How happy are we
   Who in Jesus agree
To expect his return from above!
   We sit under our VINE,
And delightfully join
   In the praise of his excellent love.

How pleasant and sweet
   (In his name when we meet)
Is his fruit to our spiritual taste!
   We are banqueting here
On angelical cheer,
   And the joys that eternally last.
Invited by him,
We drink of the stream
Ever-flowing in bliss from the throne;
Who in Jesus believe
We the Spirit receive
That proceeds from the Father and Son.

The unspeakable grace
He obtained for our race;
And the Spirit of faith he imparts:
Then, then we conceive
How in heaven they live
By the kingdom of God in our hearts.

True believers have seen
The Saviour of men,
As his head he on Calvary bowed;
We shall see him again,
When with all his bright train
He descends on the luminous cloud.

We remember the word
Of our crucified Lord,
When he went to prepare us a place,
“'I will come in that day,
And transport you away,
And admit to a sight of my face.”

With earnest desire
After thee we aspire,
And long thy appearing to see;
'Till our souls thou receive
In thy presence to live,
And be perfectly happy in thee.

Come, Lord, from the skies,
And command us to rise
Ready made for the mansions above;
With our head to ascend,
And eternity spend
In a rapture of heavenly love.
147.
Morning Hymn.

1 My God, thou art in Jesus mine,
   And early will I seek thy face,
A slave redeemed by blood divine,
   A sinner saved by pard’ning grace.

2 Preventing the first dawn of day,
   I lift my joyful heart and eyes,
And called by love my vows to pay,
   Present my morning sacrifice.

3 Thanks be to God enthroned above,
   Who did to man salvation bring:
Thy riches of redeeming love
   Let angels and archangels sing.

4 Worthy the Lamb extolled to live,
   Whose life to ransom ours was given:
Jesus, the homage due receive,
   The utmost praise of earth and heaven.

5 God over all forever blest,
   Giver of every gift and grace,
Redemption shines above the rest,
   And challenges my endless praise.

6 Fountain and root of all beside Redemption in the dust I own,
And suffering with the crucified
   Arise the partner of thy throne.

7 Ev’n now I taste the raptures there,
   Amidst the church of the first-born,
Redeemed from earth, my Lord declare,
   And shouting to thine arms return.
8 I see those outstretched arms of love,
    Those arms extended on the tree!
I see my place prepared above,
    And bow my head, to reign with thee!

148.
For One Retired into the Country.

1 Merciful God, what hast thou done
    For a poor sojourner,
How strangely drawn and led me on
    To seek salvation here?
Here in the solitary shade
    I seek the things above,
In deep distress implore thine aid,
    And languish for thy love.

2 Thou, only thou canst soothe my grief,
    And calm my troubled breast,
Afford the permanent relief,
    The true internal rest;
Th’ irreparable loss repair,
    And draw th’ envenomed dart,
And shut the world of sin and care
    Out of my peaceful heart.

3 Sorrow and sin are chased away,
    Whene’er thy love appears,
The gloom it brightens into day,
    And dries the mourner’s tears:
It makes a wounded spirit whole,
    Pours in the balm divine,
And whispers to mine inmost soul
    “The pard’ning God is thine!”

4 Come then, thou universal Good,
    And bid my heart be still,
And let me meet thee in the wood,
    Or find thee on the hill:

---

29Manuscript precursor to this hymn appears in MS Richmond, 127–29.
My soul to nobler prospects raise,
   My largest views extend
Beyond the bounds of time and space,
   Where pain and death shall end.

5 Lead to the streams of paradise
   My raptured spirit lead,
And bid the tree of life arise
   And flourish o’er my head:
Place me by faith on Pisgah’s top
   The antepast to prove,
And then receive thy servant up
   To see thy face above.

149.
Another [For One Retired into the Country].

1 Hence, lying world, with all thy care,
   With all thy shows of good or fair,
      Of beautiful or great!
Stand with thy slighted charms aloof,
   Nor dare invade my peaceful roof,
      Or trouble my retreat.

2 Far from thy mad fantastic ways,
   I here have found a resting place
      Of poor wayfaring men:
Calm as the hermit in his grot,
   I here enjoy my happy lot,
      And solid pleasures gain.

3 Along the hill or dewy mead
   In sweet forgetfulness I tread,
      Or wander through the grove,
As Adam in his native seat,
   In all his works my God I meet
      The object of my love.

---

39 A manuscript precursor of this hymn appears in MS Richmond, 146–47.
I see his beauty in the flower;
To shade my walks, and deck my bower,
   His love and wisdom join:
Him in the feathered choir I hear,
And own, while all my soul is ear,
   The music is divine!

In yon unbounded plain I see
A sketch of his immensity
   Who spans these ample skies,
Whose presence makes the happy place,
And opens in the wilderness
   A blooming paradise.

O would he now himself impart,
And fix the Eden in my heart
   The sense of sin forgiven,
How should I then throw off my load,
And walk delightfully with God,
   And follow Christ to heaven!

150.
   Written in Uncertainty.

To what am I reserved! Great God,
   The counsel of thy will display,
Nor let me underneath the load
   Of anxious doubt forever stay.

Thou seest I cannot journey on,
   'Till thou the ling'ring cloud remove,
And make the destined action known,
   And lead me by the fire of love.

My every choice, desire, design
   I now implicitly submit,
My will is fixed to follow thine,
   And lies indifferent at thy feet.
4 Parties and sects I now forego,
   From all their schemes and systems free:
   After the flesh no more I know
   Those dearest souls thou gav’st to me.

5 Loosed and detached I cease from man,
   Opinions, names are clean forgot,
   This all my aim, and all my plan,
   To do, and be—I know not what.

6 But wilt thou not at last appear,
   Make darkness light before my face,
   And crooked straight, and doubtful clear,
   And show, and shine on all my ways?

7 Who on thine only truth depend,
   Who thee mine only Master own,
   To me thou wilt thy Spirit send,
   And govern me thyself alone:

8 Thy wisdom and thy power shall join
   T’ effectuate what thy love decrees,
   My work, and place, and friends assign,
   And crown the whole with full success.

151.

1 My God and Lord, thy counsel show,
   What wouldst thou have thy servant do
   Before I hence depart?
   How shall I serve thy church, and where?
   The thing, the time, the means declare,
   And teach my list’ning heart.

2 Thrust out from them I served so long,
   I dare not strive against the wrong,
   But silently resign
   The charge I never could forsake,
   And give my dearest children back
   Into the hands divine.
3 Where first I preached the word of grace,
If now I have no longer place,
   By my own flesh unknown,
Thy secret hand in all I see,
Thy will be done, whate’er it be,
   Thy welcome will be done.

4 Free for whate’er thy love ordains,
I offer up my life’s remains
   To be for thee employed:
My little strength can little do,
Yet would I in thy service true,
   Devote it all to God.

5 Wilt thou not, Lord, my offer take?
Canst thou in helpless age forsake
   The creature of thy will?
My strength is spent in the best cause:
Thy zealous messenger I was;
   I am thy servant still.

6 Master, be thou my might, my mouth,
And send me forth to north or south,
   To farthest east or west;
Be thou my guide to worlds unknown:
Rest to my flesh I covet none,
   But give my spirit rest.

7 My rest on earth to toil for thee,
My whole delight and business be
   To minister thy word,
For thee immortal souls to win,
And make the wretched slaves of sin
   The freemen of my Lord.

8 Witness and messenger of peace
I only languish to decrease
   In trumpeting thy name,
I only live to preach thy death,
And publish with my latest breath
The glories of the Lamb.

152.

1 O thou, with whom unfelt, unseen,
   Still in the desert I abide,
Look through the low’ring cloud between,
   And show thyself my heavenly guide.

2 Out of the fire of chast’ning love
   Send forth one kind instructive ray,
And give the signal to remove,
   And kindle darkness into day.

3 Till thou thy secret will declare,
   And shine in pure, unerring light,
I groan with all thy church to bear
   The burden of incumbent night.

4 For thee, not without hope, we mourn,
   For thee in calm dependence wait,
Assured thou wilt at last return,
   And raise us to our first estate.

5 The dark apostasy shall end,
   The Babel of religions cease,
The church shall with her head ascend,
   And quit this howling wilderness;

6 Shall yet again thy tokens see,
   Behold thy glorious presence shine,
And prove, from sin and doubt set free,
   The good the perfect will divine.

7 That God-revealing Spirit of grace
   Thou wilt in all his fulness give,
And never more conceal thy face,
   And never more thy people leave.
8 But who the kingdom shall behold,
   Who, when the Lord doth this, shall live?
   “I will come back” (my heart he told)
   “And thee unto myself receive.”

9 So be it, O my God, my Lord,
   In whom I steadfastly confide,
   I trust the sure inspoken word,
   And patient by thy cross abide.

10 For all who thine appearing love,
    For me thou hast prepared a place,
    And I shall meet thee from above,
    And I shall see thy open face.

11 Whether thy will ordain my stay
    To see thy general kingdom come,
    Or snatch me from the evil day,
    And take my gasping spirit home:

12 Happy, if with my best-belov’d
    I live to share the gospel-feast,
    But happier still, if now removed,
    I find my everlasting rest.

13 Wherefore with meekest awe to thee
    My time, my life, my all I leave,
    Eternal wisdom choose for me,
    And when, and as thou wilt, receive.

14 Or come in perfect light and love,
    To me, to all thy people given,
    Or come thy servant to remove,
    And take me to thyself in heaven.

153.
   Hymns for Love.

1 O might the love of Jesus
   That heaven-descended man
   Incomparably precious,
   My ransomed heart constrain
From every earthly passion,
From every sin to part,
That God and his salvation
May take up all my heart.

2 O would’st thou, Lord, discover
Thy blessed self to me,
My soul’s eternal lover,
As bleeding on the tree;
For my offences bleeding,
Crushed with the general load,
Yet kindly interceding
For those that shed his blood!

3 The realizing power
Of faith divine I want,
To see thee in that hour,
And hear thy last complaint,
By hellish toils o’ertaken
To hear th’ immortal groan
Why hath my God forsaken
His dear, expiring Son!

4 Let thy own bowels move thee
The faith of God t’ impart:
I cannot, cannot love thee,
Till thou constrain my heart,
To flesh the stony turning,
Till thou thy wounds display:
And then in blissful mourning
I weep my life away!

154.

1 Jesus, the fame of thy great name
My sin-sick soul allures:
Still in every age the same,
I hear, its virtue cures.
With humble fear I now draw near\textsuperscript{31}
In my forlorn condition,
Thy balsamic words to hear,
And prove thee my physician.

In complicate distress I wait
My plague no more concealing:
Pity my forlorn estate,
And show thy power of healing.

The leprosy that cleaves to me
Thine only touch can cure;
Sin before thy touch shall flee,
And leave my conscience pure.

Throughout my veins a fever reigns
Of pride and fierce desire:
Let thy love remove my pains,
And quench this hellish fire.

Of creature bliss my nature is Rapacious above measure:
Heal this dropsical disease,
This thirst of praise and pleasure.

Benumbed by sin I long have been,
As past all sense of feeling:
Cure the palsy, Lord, within,
Thy hidden life revealing.

An issue foul hath filled my soul
With pain and desperation,
But thy word shall make me whole
With sensible salvation.

Now then exert thy gracious art
To finish my distresses,
Drive the legion from my heart,
Of devils and diseases.

\textsuperscript{31}The word “near” is missing in both editions, but clearly implied by needed rhyme.
10  O that I might receive my sight
    Through thine almighty power!
    Turn my darkness into light,
    And now my faith restore.

11  Helpless and lame in soul I am,
    But let thy grace be given,
    I through virtue of thy name
    Shall leap, and fly to heaven.

12  Speechless am I, till thy kind sigh
    From this dumb fiend deliver;
    Then my Lord, my God I cry,
    And sing, and shout forever!

155.

1  What shall I do to love thee
    Who lov’st my soul so well?
Saviour, will nothing move thee
    Thy goodness to reveal?
Without the revelation
    So dearly purchased I
In final condemnation
    Must sink, despair, and die.

2  Wretched, and miserable,
    Naked, and poor, and blind,
Thou know’st me quite unable Thy precious love to find,
Unless, my heavenly lover,
    The bleeding mystery
Thou in my heart discover,
    And show thyself to me.

3  The cause of my salvation
    Must all in thee be found;
Stir up thy own compassion,
    And let thy bowels sound:
I faint, for mercy crying
   As with my latest groan,
I in my blood am dying
   For whom thou pour’st thine own.

4  O by thy bloody offering
   By all thy pangs redeem
A sinful soul from suffering
   That punishment extreme:
Unworthy of thy favour,
   The vilest of the race,
Undone, undone forever,
   If banished from thy face.

5  From thee I must be driven
   To that infernal grave,
Unless thy love be given
   The sinner here to save:
Thy love alone can part me
   From every sin abhorred,
Into a saint convert me,
   A transcript of my Lord.

6  Thy love so strong and fervent
   To this poor soul is vain,
Unless thou help thy servant
   To love my God again:
Th’ inestimable blessing
   For thy own sake bestow,
While peace and joy unceasing
   My loving heart o’erflow.

7  Th’ affectionate sensation
   If thou hast bought for me,
Of thy mysterious passion
   The end accomplished see,
Fulfil my sole desire
   Thy hidden love to taste,
And then my soul require,
   And let me breathe my last.
156.

1 O God of love, come from above,
   O God that hear’st the prayer,
   All this mountain load remove,
   All this world of care.

2 The cause express of my distress
   I own with grief and anguish:
   Still for want of pardoning grace,
   For want of faith I languish.

3 Thou God unknown, for whom I groan
   In endless lamentation,
   Wilt thou suffer me to moan,
   And die without salvation?

4 O when shall I with rapture cry
   Thy servant hath found favour,
   Thee my Lord I magnify,
   I joy in thee my Saviour.

5 For this I pant, athirst and faint,
   And cry in pain unceasing
   Give the only good I want,
   Give the gospel-blessing.

6 Now let me know the grace below
   To all believers given,
   Bid me feel thy love, and go
   In perfect peace to heaven.

157.

1 Delight, and softest sympathy,
   My faithful heart divide,
   When I behold the shameful tree
   Where my beloved died!
I look on him whose blood redeems,
   And bears me up to God;
I look—and while the fountain streams,
   My tears increase the flood.

2 I want to pour a sea of tears,
   With blessed grief to mourn,
In view of him, whose form appears
   By my offences torn:
My sins have done th’ atrocious deed,
   Have caused the killing smart,
And pierced his soul, and made him bleed
   The balm that breaks my heart.

3 His precious blood both wounds and heals,
   (When faith the balm applies)
My peace restores, my pardon seals,
   My nature sanctifies;
His precious blood the life inspires
   Which angels live above,
And fills my infinite desires,
   And turns me all to love.

158.

1 Allowed to kiss my Saviour’s feet,
   I here rejoice and grieve:
I never can the sins forget
   Which Jesus doth forgive;
Sorrow and joy unspeakable
   Alternately I prove,
And now my baseness I bewail,
   And now admire his love.

2 O might I thus through life remain,
   Delightfully distressed,
And still indulge the pleasing pain
   Which tears my happy breast;
Till he, my heart’s desire appears
   Revealed in heavenly light,
And wipes away these blessed tears
   By that ecstatic sight!
159.

1 O that I could my Lord receive,
   Who did the world redeem,
   Who gave his life that I might live
   A life concealed in him!
O that I could the blessing prove,
   My heart’s extreme desire,
   Live happy in my Saviour’s love,
   And in his arms expire!

2 Jesus, thou all-atoning Lamb,
   How shall I plead with thee?
If graven on thy hands I am,
   For good remember me:
If still thou dost my tokens bear,
   Thy love to me reveal,
And list'ning to a sinner’s prayer,
   My present pardon seal.

3 Mercy I ask to seal my peace,
   That kept by mercy’s power
I may from every evil cease,
   And never grieve thee more:
Now, if thy gracious will it be,
   Ev’n now my sins remove,
And set my heart at liberty
   By thy victorious love.

4 In answer to ten thousand prayers,
   Thou pard’ning God descend,
Number me with salvation’s heirs,
   My sins and troubles end:
Nothing I ask, or want beside,
   Of all in earth and heaven,
Let me but feel thy blood applied,
   Let me but die forgiven.

160.

1 Ask if a mother’s heart is kind
   To her own sucking child,
Then ask, is God to love inclined,
   Or my Redeemer mild?
2 A mother may perhaps neglect,
   And her own son forget,
But Jesus never will reject
   A sinner at his feet.

3 Ask, if the sun doth once mistake
   His true celestial road;
Then ask, if Jesus can forsake
   The purchase of his blood.

4 The sun at last shall lose his way,
   And into darkness fall;
But Jesus at that endless day
   Shall be our all in all.

161.

1 With glorious clouds encompassed round
   Whom angels dimly see,
Will the unsearchable be found,
   Or God appear to me?

2 Will he forsake his throne above,
   Himself to worms impart?
Answer thou Man of grief and love,
   And speak into my heart.

3 In manifested love explain
   Thy wonderful design,
What meant the suffering Son of man,
   The streaming blood divine?

4 Didst thou not in our flesh appear,
   And live and die below,
That I may now perceive thee near,
   And my Redeemer know?

5 Come then, and to my soul reveal
   The heights and depths of grace,
Those wounds which all my sorrows heal,
   That dear disfigured face.

6 Before my eyes of faith confessed
   Stand forth a slaughtered Lamb,
And wrap me in thy crimson vest,
   And tell me all thy name.
7 Jehovah in thy person show,
     Jehovah crucified,
And then the pard'ning God I know,
     And feel the blood applied;

8 I view the Lamb in his own light
     Whom angels dimly see,
And gaze transported at the sight
     Through all eternity.

162.

1 Fain would I, Lord, obtain the grace,
     Before I hence remove,
To see a few unruffled days,
     And my Redeemer love.

2 O might I with thy people blest
     Thy great salvation see,
Anticipate the glorious rest
     And find it now in thee.

3 Give me the hidden bliss to feel
     The heavenly powers to taste
Realities invisible,
     And joys that ever last.

4 Eternal life begun below
     I in thy favour prove,
And all thy gifts thou dost bestow
     By giving me thy love.

A Wedding Song.

1 Come, thou everlasting Lord,
     By our trembling hearts adored,
Come thou heaven-descended guest,
     Bidden to our marriage feast;
Jesus, in the midst appear,
     Present with thy followers here,
Grant us the peculiar grace,
     Show us all thy smiling face.

32Manuscript precursors of this hymn appear in Letter to Ebenezer Blackwell (April 8, 1749); and MS Richmond, 4–5. This is the hymn Charles prepared to be sung at his own wedding to Sarah Gwynne. Cf. his MS Journal (April 8, 1749).
2 Now the veil of sin withdraw,
Fill our souls with sacred awe,
Awe that dares not speak or move,
Deepest awe of humble love;
Love that doth its Lord descry,
Ever intimately nigh,
Sees th’ invisible in thee,
Fulness of the deity.

3 Let on us thy Spirit rest,
Enter each devoted breast,
Still with thy disciples sit,
Still thy works of grace repeat:
Now the former wonder show,
Manifest thy power below,
Earthly souls exalt, refine,
Turn the water into wine.

4 Stop the hurrying spirit’s haste,
Change the soul’s ignoble taste,
Nature into grace improve,
Earthly into heavenly love:
Raise our hearts to things on high,
To our Bridegroom in the sky,
Heaven our hope, and highest aim,
Mystic marriage of the Lamb.

5 O might each obtain a share,
Of the pure enjoyments there,
Now in rapturous surprise,
Drink the wine of paradise,
Cry, amidst the rich repast,
Thou hast giv’n the best at last,
Wine that cheers the host above,
The best wine of perfect love.

164.
Another [A Wedding Song].

1 Sing to the Lord of earth and sky,
Who first ordained the nuptial tie,
In Eden yoked the new-made pair,
And bless’d them to each other there.

33A manuscript precursor of this hymn appears in MS Richmond, 130–31.
2 Extol the great Jehovah’s name,
Whose love from age to age the same
Delights his creature’s bliss to see,
And joys in our prosperity.

3 God of the patriarchal race,
He still directs us by his grace,
Who Isaac and Rebecca joined
He gives us each our mate to find.

4 He magnified the social state,
And stamped our joy divinely great,
When God appeared his creature’s guest,
And Jesus graced a wedding-feast.

5 That everlasting joy of his,
Is shadowed by the nuptial bliss:
Heaven is the marriage of the Lamb,
And God assumes a bridegroom’s name.

6 Then let us glory in his grace,
And triumph in the Father’s praise,
Who made a marriage for his Son,
And sent him from his bosom down:

7 Thanks to our heavenly Adam give,
Who formed his church the second Eve,
Produced her from his wounded side,
And still rejoices o’er his bride:

8 Praise to the blessed Spirit above,
Who fills our hearts with sacred love,
Our faithful hearts to Jesus plights,
And each to each in God unites.
Praise God from whom ....

On the Birthday of a Friend.\(^ {34} \)

1 Come away to the skies,
My beloved arise,
And rejoice on the day thou wast born,
On the festival day
Come exulting away,
To thy heavenly country return.

\(^ {34} \)A manuscript precursor of this hymn appears in MS Richmond, 2–4; where it is clear this was written for the birthday of Sarah Gwynne Wesley.
2 We have laid up our love
And treasure above,
Though our bodies continue below;
The redeemed of the Lord
We remember his word,
And with singing to Sion we go.

3 With singing we praise
The original grace
By our heavenly Father bestowed,
Our being receive
From his bounty, and live
To the honour and glory of God.

4 For thy glory we are,
Created to share
Both the nature and kingdom divine:
Created again,
That our souls may remain
In time and eternity thine.

5 With thanks we approve
The design of thy love
Which hath joined us, in Jesus his name,
So united in heart,
That we never can part,
Till we meet at the feast of the Lamb.

6 There, there at his seat
We shall suddenly meet,
And be parted in body no more,
We shall sing to our lyres
With the heavenly choirs,
And our Saviour in glory adore.

7 Hallelujah we sing
To our Father and King,
And his rapturous praises repeat;
To the Lamb that was slain
Hallelujah again
Sing all heaven, and fall at his feet.
8 In assurance of hope
   We to Jesus look up,
Till his banner unfurled in the air
   From our grave we doth see,
   And cry out IT IS HE,
And fly up to acknowledge him there!

166.
Gloria Patri, etc. [1.]

[1] Glory to the paternal God,
   To Jesus lavish of his blood,
   God over all supreme in power and grace,
   And God the Holy Ghost with equal ardors praise.

[2] Sing all on earth like those on high,
   Let saints and angels magnify
   One undivided God in Persons Three,
   And lengthen out the song to all eternity!

[167.]
[Gloria Patri, etc.] 2.

Thankful the Father’s grace we own;
   Jehovah’s fellow and his Son,
   With God the Holy Ghost adore,
   One glorious God in Persons Three,
   All honour we ascribe to thee,
As always was, and is, and shall be evermore!
